Volume VIII

Lives of great men all remind us
We can make our lives sublime,
And, departing, leave behind us
Footprints on the sands of time;

Footprints, that perhaps another, Sailing o'er life's solemn main,
A forlorn and shipwrecked brother,
Seeing, shall take heart again.

Henry Wadsworth Longfellow from "A Psalm of Life"

MISS PATRICIA FITZWATER

Miss Fitzwater explains the periodic chart to her introductory chemistry class.

Staff "A" Salutes Miss Fitzwater

Endless paperwork, lab reports, smoking experiments, pungent vapors, 314 Seniors, and teacher's meetings comprise the world of Miss Patricia Fitzwater.
As they look back over the last five years, the Class of '69 remembers her relentless assistance through the years, and her diligent work and patience she gives all who work with her.
As Senior Advisor, Miss Fitzwater takes on the many problems of graduation, Senior Class meetings, and personality ballots.
In the past, Miss Fitzwater has been the advisor of the Spanish and Science Clubs and this year marks her seventh year of teaching at Ferguson High School.
It is with great pleasure that we,
the 1969 MARINER Staff, join the Class of '69 in saluting MISS PATRICIA FITZWATER.

We Remember . . .

MRS. ALICE WHITE

"People who have warm friends are healthier and happier than those who have none. A single real friend is a treasure worth more than gold or precious stones.
Money can buy many things, good and evil. All the wealth of the world could not buy you a friend or pay for the loss of one."

Table Of Contents

To capture the uniqueness of 1969, that which will make this year a lasting print on time, we, the 1969 MARINER Staff, record the moments of those who lead, direct, serve, and guide Ferguson High School in hopes of presenting an unforgettable year.
This is the Table of Contents — the key to life at Ferguson.

FHS Students Support Activities

Each student contributes to the student body and becomes an integral part of the whole. Whether it be through his studies, his sports activities, or his school spirit, each student must do what he feels is necessary to best help his school. Each year initiates new ideas through the combined efforts of the student body, the faculty, and the administration. The Drill Team, the Geography Club, the State Wrestling Tournament, and the Thespian Troupe in Mobile, Alabama, are the result of participation on the part of every member at Ferguson. Through such disappointments as the New Building fire, Mariners strive to make Ferguson a better school, one in which all Mariners can take pride.

A worker starts repairs on the New Building after the fire.

"Whiz" Willis artfully eludes menacing Microphonies.

. . . decorating doors.

The SCA supervises the Easter Egg Hunt at the Virginia School for the Deaf and Blind.

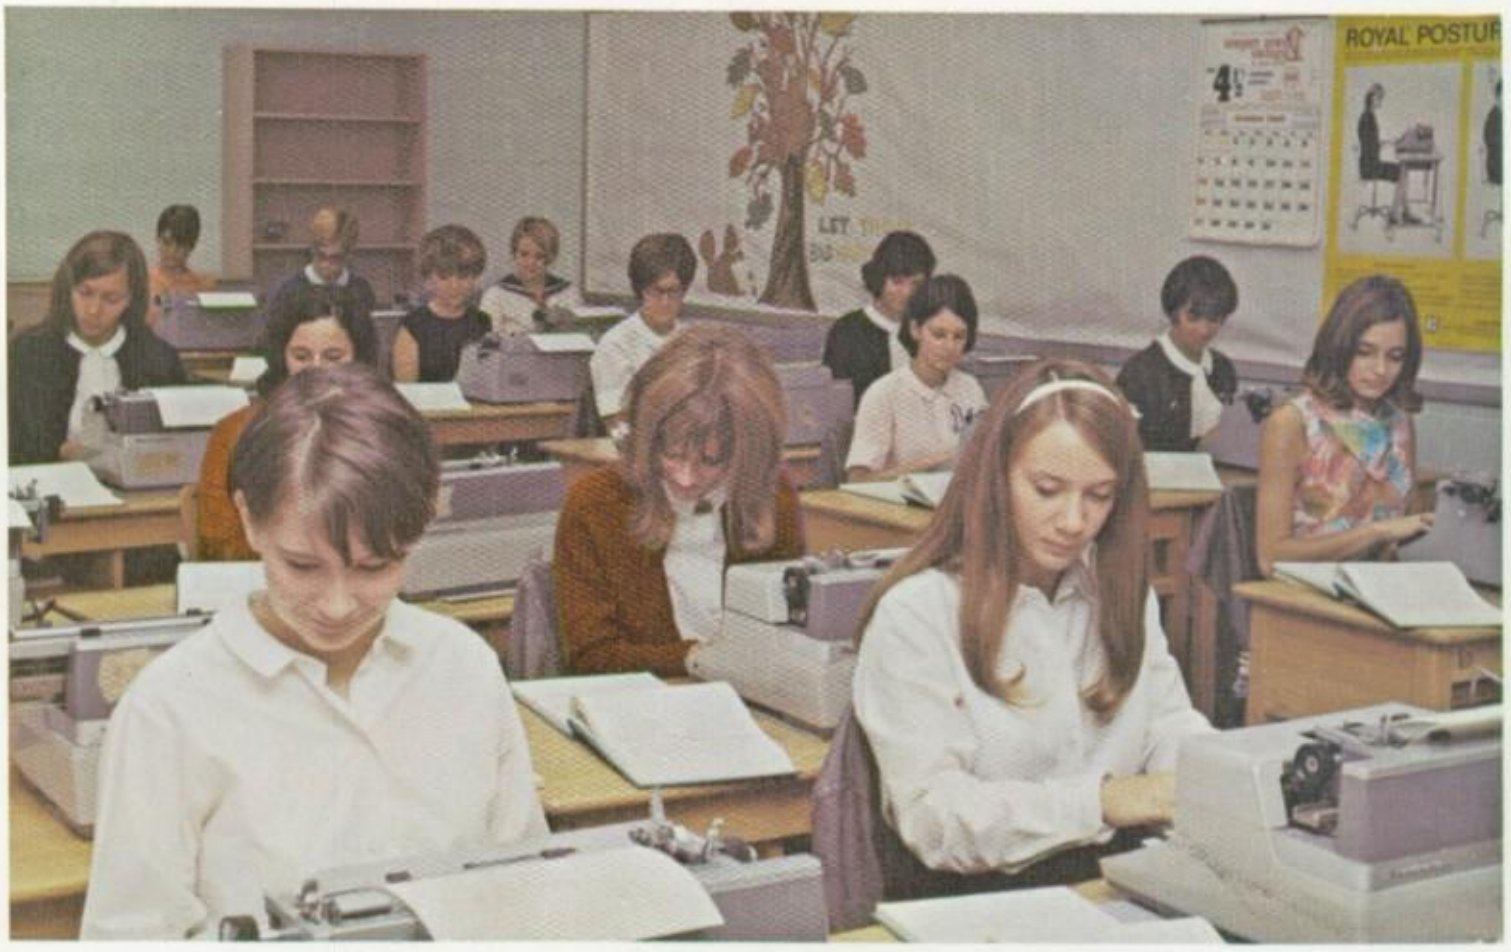
Miss Mariner contestants enjoy a dinner with the judges before presenting their talent.

Key Clubbers Alan Gillis, David Oser, and Harold DeHoff pull weeds by the tennis courts in the Clean-Up Olympics.

Students Make FHS More Than A Building

As the students of Ferguson High School attend classes, do homework, participate in sports, and join clubs, they make their imprint on the paths that future classes at FHS will follow. No student or teacher attending Ferguson fails to feel the effect of those around him. The many accomplishments and awards that Ferguson students receive show the results of working together. It is in this way that Ferguson represents more than a building; it is an institution where each student feels the necessity of those around him and contributes to the progress of the school because the future of FHS depends on him.

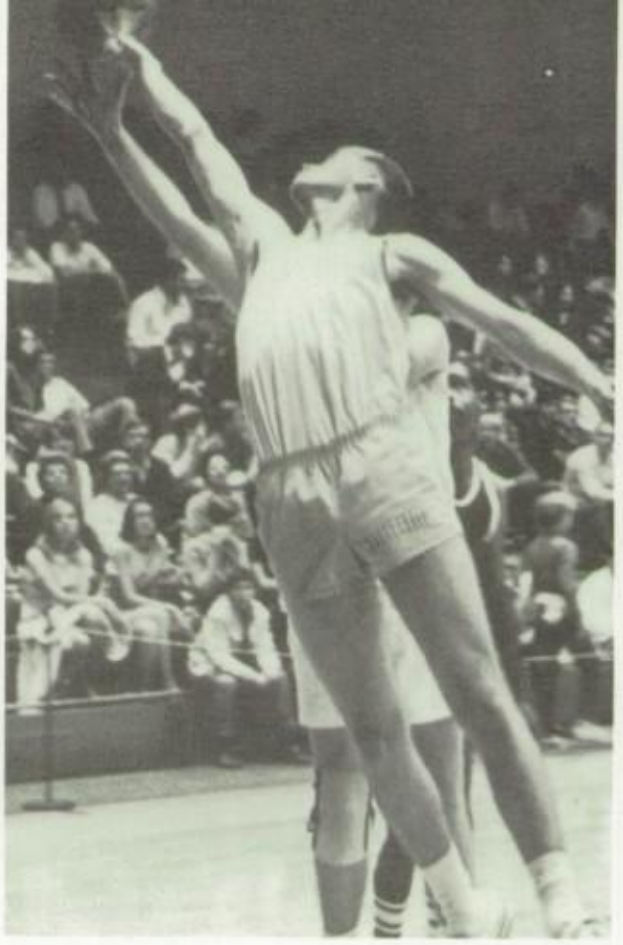
Mrs. Wilson's typing students try to abide by the basic rule in typing: "Eyes on the copy."



Varsity football players fight hard to win over Kecoughtan in the Homecoming game.

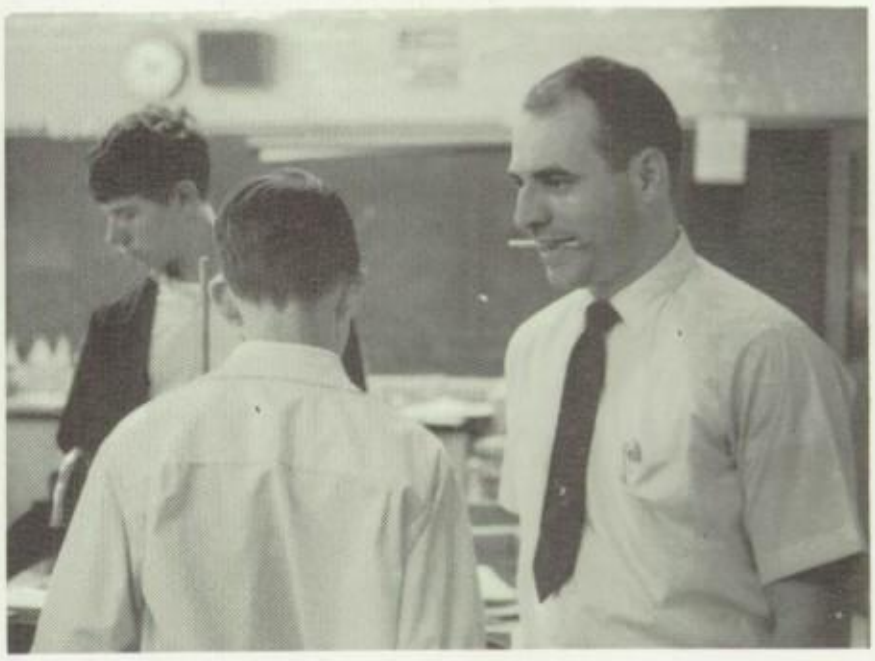
The cheerleaders exemplify the true spirit and sportsmanship of Ferguson.

Students leave their fourth period classes to go to lunch.



Student Life

The key to life at Ferguson and a picture of the student joining clubs, making friends, and participating in sports and in dramatic productions is a part of Student Life.
Cathy Jaehnig's reign as the '69 Miss Mariner, Joe Howe's election as SCA President, and Student Participation Day reflect the uniqueness of this year.
Student Life, however, is more than just the glorious moments of individuals; it is pride developed through student involvement.
The results of these many activities become evident through the applause at a play, the fine showing of school spirit at a sports event, the production of Stunt Night to net $750, and the support of the HELM to keep it out of the hole.
There are many humorous aspects to Student Life, too, such as learning the "advantages" of applying a neck tourniquet in health class as well as the upsets of having the stage condemned by the fire department and trying to beat the five minute break with a seven minute cigarette!
Student Life captures the footprints of individuals involved in their school.



The Mariner Band adds a colorful salute to FHS during half-time activities.

Players break through a banner in the opening moments before the game.

Dabbs proves to be a problem for Kecoughtan during the game.

Mrs. Passage crowns Miss Julie Bryant Homecoming Queen 1968.

Homecoming 1968 Climaxes The Fall

A bonfire shoots to the sky, kindling sparks of excitement and setting off a spirited beginning for Ferguson Homecoming 1968.
Twelve lovely girls dream of gowns, yellow, green or red.
A competent team ponders strategy for defeating the Kecoughtan team.
The zesty pep assembly spreads a flame of spirit through all fans, princesses, and team.
At the game from the decorated stands, hundreds cheer as Mariners burst through banners and blaze on to smash the attempts of the Warriors.
Suddenly it's half-time and a dozen girls stand poised before the hushed crowd.
"Homecoming Queen 1968, Miss Julie Bryant" announces someone, and amid the cheers, tears, and smiles, Mrs. Passage crowns her.
The glorious Ferguson win of 27 to 20 keeps all happy through a carousel dance.
For all Mariners happy memories remain in the embers of Homecoming 1968.

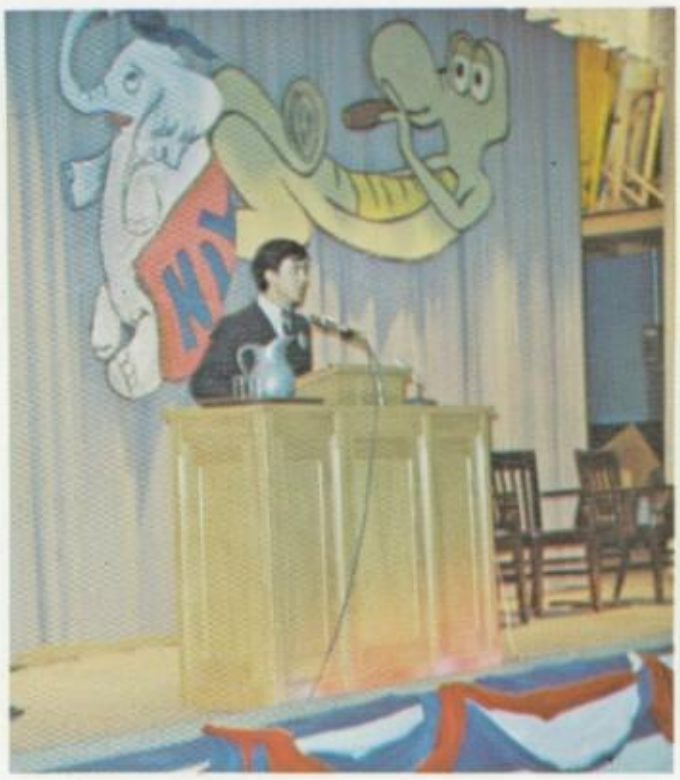
The band plays and girls dance during a demonstration.

Mr. F. Lee Ford urges students to vote for Wallace.

Everyone relaxes during the break after Mr. Marshall's speech for Nixon.



Robbie Cutler, who organized the assembly, speaks for his candidate.

Republicans Win In Mock Election

Bright balloons, demonstrations, confetti, handbills and a spirited, confused excitement characterize the mock political assembly that was held preceeding the November general election.
An elephant, a donkey, and a crocodile, symbols of the three parties, brighten the auditorium walls.
Guest speakers and students organize their ideas and platforms into two hours of persuasion and argument, punctuated with balloons, music, and cheers.
Mr. John Marshall, Mr. Alan Diamonstein, and Mr. F. Lee Ford urge students to make a careful, thoughtful decision.
As if predicting the national trend, FHS students at the polls elect the Nixon–Agnew ticket, defeating the Democrats, Humphry and Muskie and the Independents, Wallace and LaMay.

Teachers Star In Microphony Game

With "Pow-pow-power in ole Virginia"
the W G H Microphonies arrive ready to defeat the fabulous Ferguson faculty.
Basket for basket
the two teams battle for points.
However, cheered on by the agile, graceful wonderful Ferguson women,
"Goose" Tyson and "Wiz" Willis, spark the able men
on to defeat the men of W G H.
Door prizes, plenty of laughs, and a score of 67 to 58 provide a successful night for the students and faculty.
and yields a nice profit for the Juniors' prom fund.

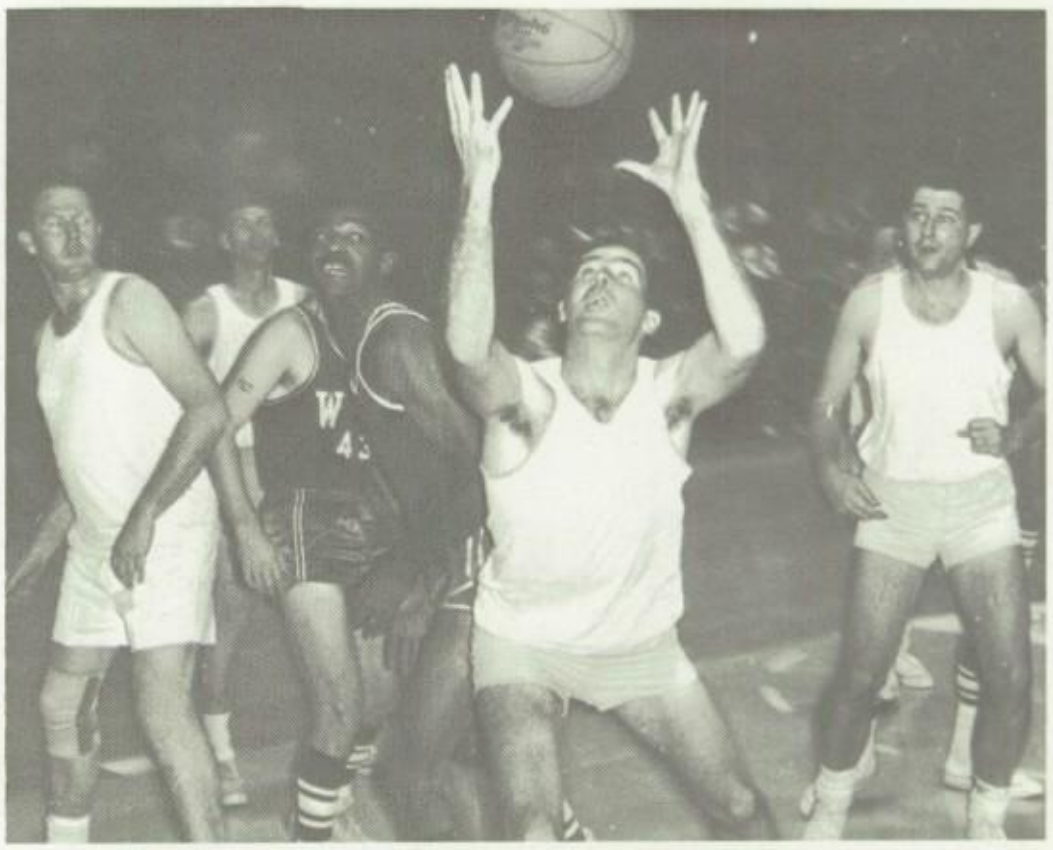
A microphony player jumps for a basket as "Goose" Tyson and "Sissy" Sizemore try to block the shot.

"Crazy Legs" Car concentrates on another rebound in the 67–58 faculty victory.



High scorer for the faculty, "Crazy Legs" Carn, is guarded by two microphony players.

Microphony cheerleaders Mrs. Childress, Miss Battle, Miss Ford, Miss Murphy, and Miss Reichard anxiously watch the men battle for valuable points.

Hip Hippie Hooray
Is A Joint Effort

Teachers and students hurry to put on strange make-up and to pin together costumes.
Cathy Jaehnig and Mark Tompkins are still rehearsing lines.
All of a sudden, lights down, curtain up:
Hip Hippie Hooray!
Miss Fivel, the indignant hippie;
Mr. Willis — naturally — the cop;
Mrs. Burt's two lines;
the Guru contemplating
"There is power in the flower;"
Miss Murphy hamming it up,
"They're going to bed, Harry;"
Mrs. Fox and Mrs. Santiful, unable to understand the plot;
psychedelic signs and hippie slogans,
"Go to school! Learn to read and riot;" the set, an Eat-In Restaurant:
all are a part of the fun and the $500 profit that make a successful production.

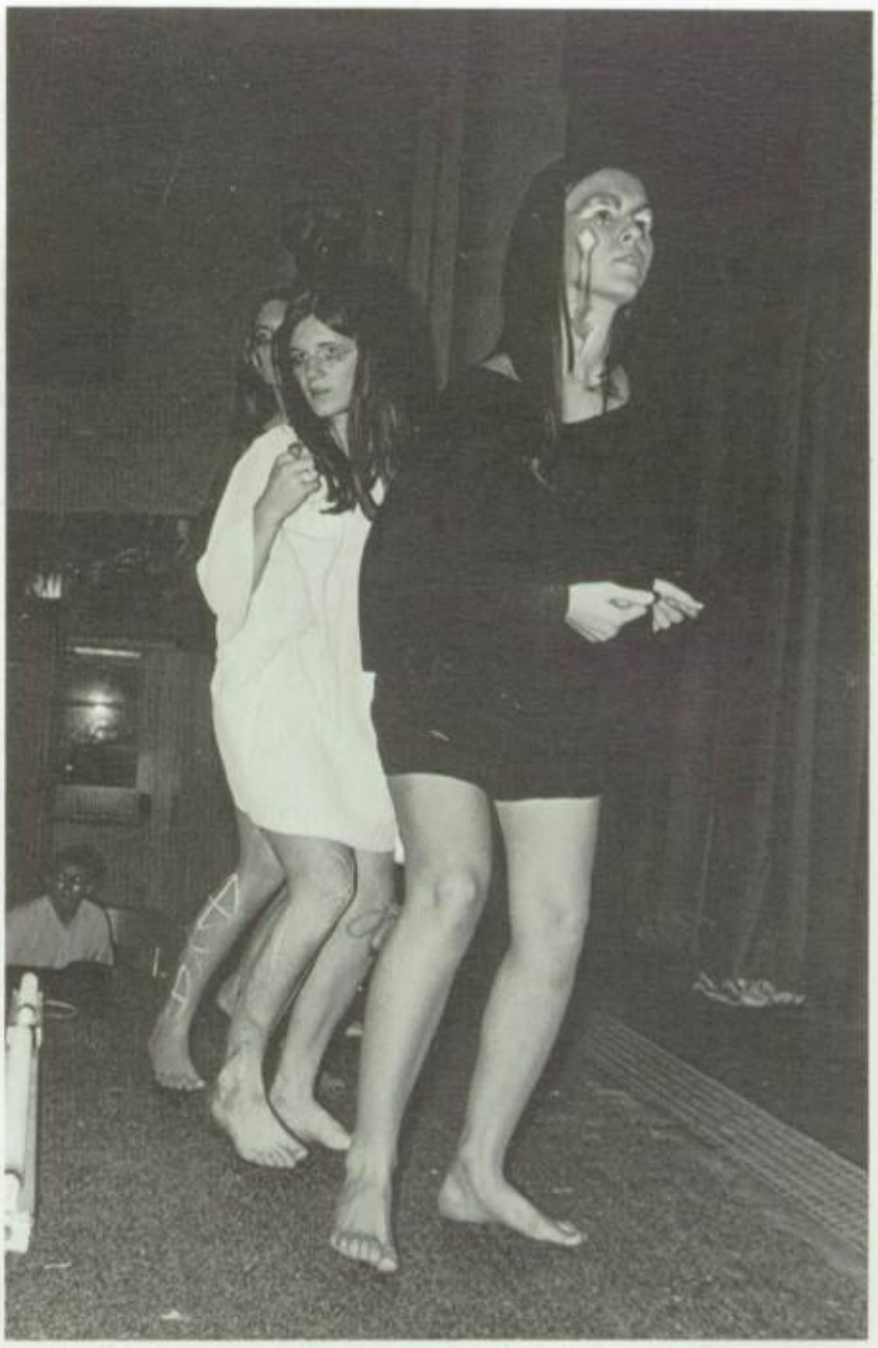
Mr. and Mrs. Stephenson (Mr. Johnson and Miss Loughran) glare disapprovingly at their daughter Suzy.

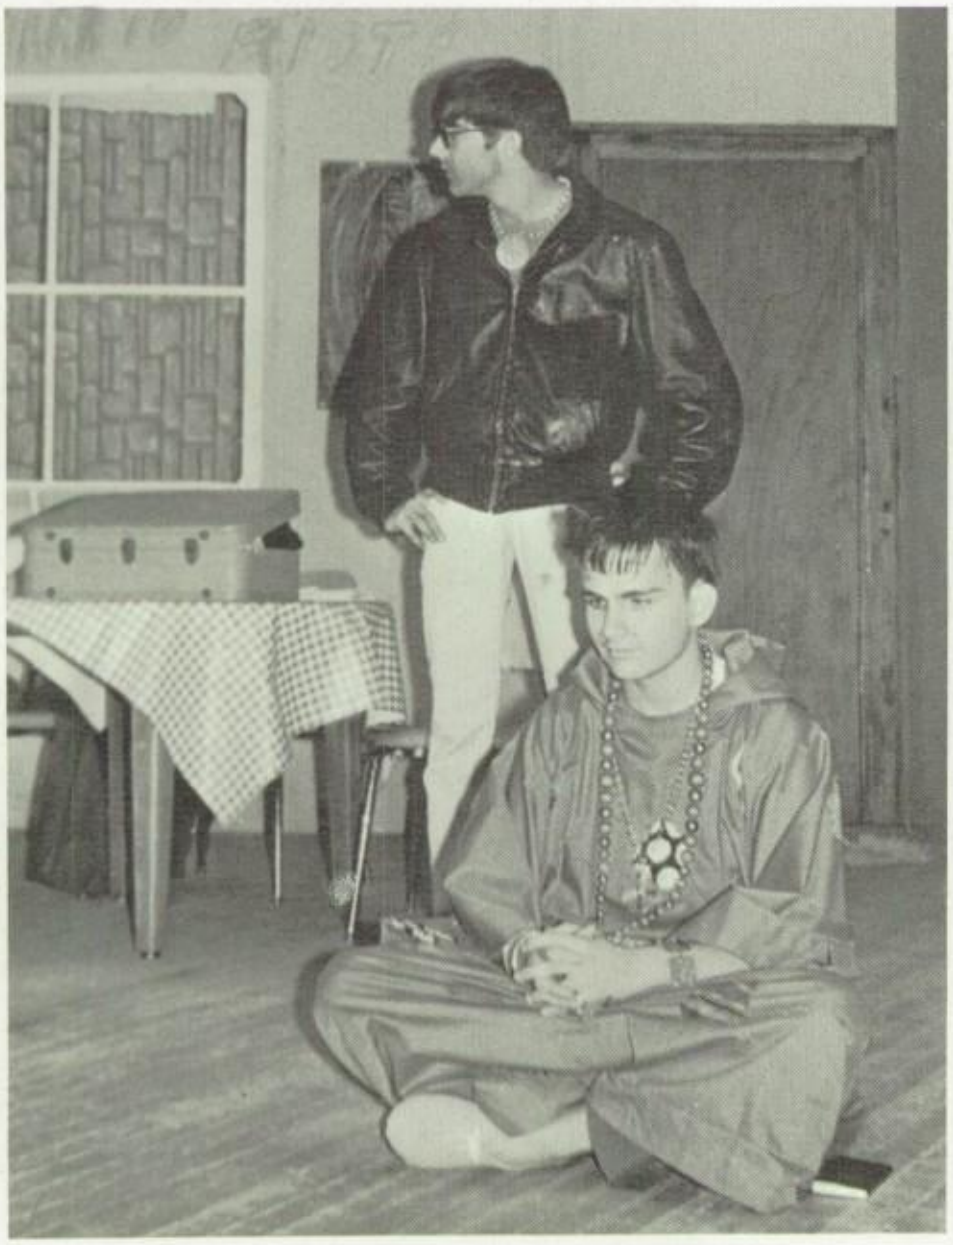


Judy Colbert, Lynn Nicholls, and Mimi Hiemenz lead a dance to psychedelic music during intermission.

Miss Stanky (Lee Storey) and Patrolman Kelly (Danny Perry) order the hippies out of the building.

Suzy (Cathy Jaehnig) and Will (Mark Tompkins) urge Diogenes (Orlan Cannon) to awaken before Miss Stanky arrives.

Guru (Tim Justice) philosophizes to Commander Brotherhood (Roy Draper), "A guru is a guru is always a guru."



"You tell 'em, dearie!" exclaims Lavinia (Mrs. Smith).

Commanders Sweep 1969 SCA Elections

The Commanders nervously anticipate the outcome of their speeches.

Working with a limited ten dollar budget, handing out handbills and letters, putting up bulletin boards, and finding supporters to campaign are just a few of the problems that the Carelots and the Commanders encountered in the 1969 SCA elections. With promises of a SCA column in the Windjammer, closer communications with the administration, and a visit to the upcoming eighth graders to acquaint them with the SCA, the Carelots (Mat Hawley, Winnie Sutton, Nancy LaPrade, Debbie Ford, Marcia Gilbert, and Peter Rudy) and the Commanders plan their strategy for the assembly. On Friday the Commanders efforts pay off and Joe Howe, Mark Ailsworth, Steph Steinbach, Mary Taylor, Susan Meehan, and Suzanne Powell are elected as new SCA President, Vice President, Secretary, Treasurer, Reporter, and Parliamentarian.

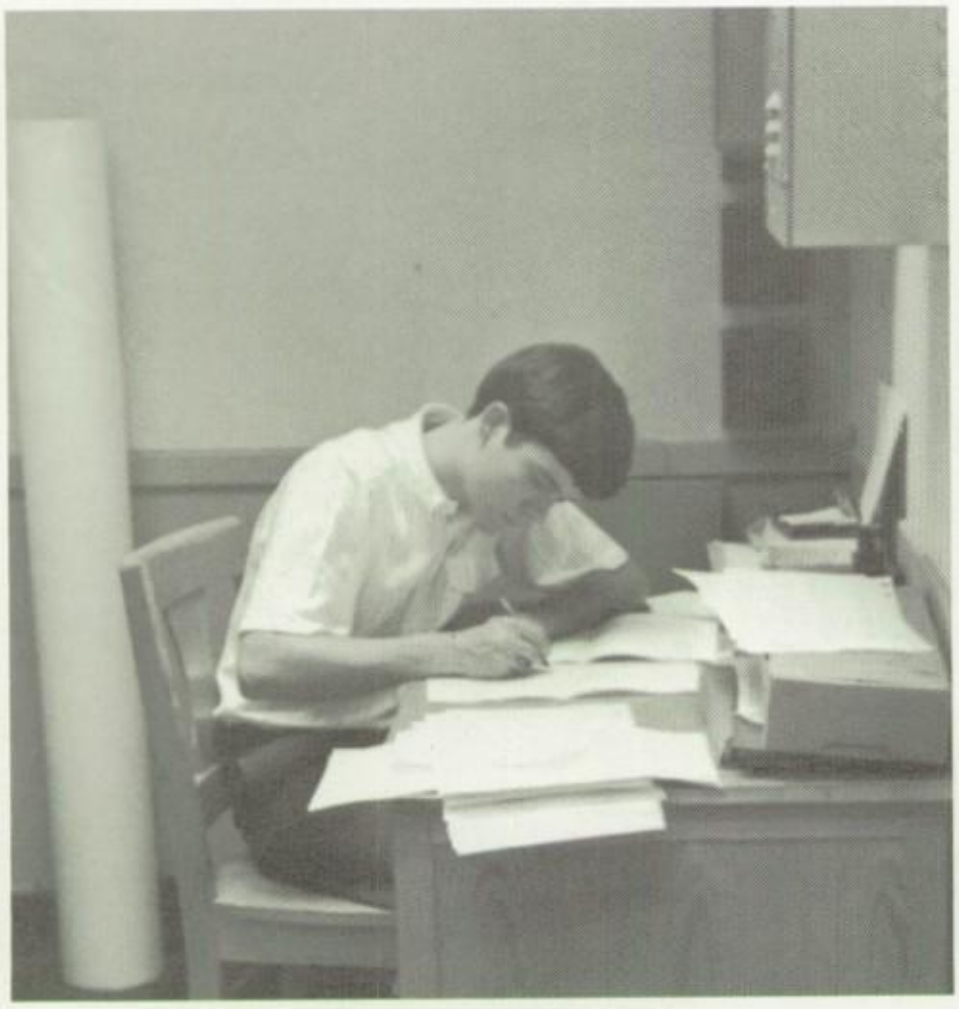
Listening intently to their opponents' speeches, the Carelots await their turn to be introduced.

Steph Steinbach, the only Freshman running for office, stands as her qualifications are stated.

Doc Garnett attempts to remove banners following the campaign assembly.

Students compare the platforms of both tickets.

Working hard, Peter Rudy sweeps the auditorium in order to get it back to normal.



Joe Howe finds that his first hard job is picking committee chairmen for next year.

An ovation brings the Shenandoah Ramblers back to sing for the Stunt Nite audience.

Sandra MacFall collects tickets from Brenda Harris and John W. Lawson as she and Nancy Eure usher them into "Cabaret."

Oscar Munoz sings the beautiful Latin American song "Guantanamera" to Tim Clark and Billy Van Thiel's accompaniment.

Largest Crowd Yet At FHS Stunt Night

What goes into the production of the most successful Stunt Night in history?
Tons of imagination, days of tryouts, exciting talent like the Soul Expression and the Shenandoah Ramblers—all put together by Carol Wolf and Wendy Townsend produce a remarkable evening.
(With Mr. Willis as MC, could they lose?)
The "one more time" for the first scene, the Cutler, Lewis, and Sands impromptu dance in the isle, the Tri-Hi-Y can-can,
the Steve "Bill Cosby" Yates special, a teacher's skit — a big surprise — (and the biggest surprise, Mrs. Thomas' line, "That girl don't want to sit beside me!") all somehow mesh together into Stunt Night '69.
For some, it's the end of an unreal week, for two vocal bands, a standing ovation, for everyone, thunderous applause, and for the SCA, a fantastic $750 profit and another representative to Boy's State.

The wolf, Roger Cawthon, pleads with Grandma, Cathy Jaehnig, not to testify against a poor orphan wolf like himself.

"Hairy Falsetto" Goes To Mobile

As the curtain rises on "The Hairy Falsetto," Ferguson witnesses its Thespian Troupe's most outstanding accomplishment, the play they will perform representing Virginia's 275 high schools in the Southeastern Theatre Conference at Mobile.
The scene is a courtroom; the case — the state versus the wolf that tried to make breakfast of Grandma. The evidence — a hair from an eyebrow found on granny's pillow (but wolves don't have eyebrows!), Granny's "intermission," and Little Red's red coat that excited the colorblind wolf.
The result — an "excellent" rating, third place,
Best Actress, Best Actor, and Best Supporting Actress awards, finding out Little Red, not the wolf, is guilty, and concluding that Mother Goose should be banned from the schools.
What is this, anyway? A Kangaroo Court?

The judge, Robbie Cutler, declares that the wolf will get a fair trial and then they will hang him.

D. A., Frances Ann Moore, finds definite proof — a hair from a wolf's eyebrow found on Grandma's pillow.

As the judges make their final decision, Mr. Forrest, Master of Ceremonies, sings to the future Miss Mariner.

Pat Humme crowns a new Miss Mariner — Cathy Jaehnig.

As the first semi-finalist, Ann Czarneki, steps forward, the escorts and contestants Robbie Cutler, Mike McDougal, Karen Taylor, Beth Furr, Susan Runyan, Heli Roth, Judy Dale, Susie Deazley, Sue Brooks, Anita Edge, Donna Lietzke, Cathy Jaehnig, Lynn Cole, Cindy Holland, Debbie Russell, Kathy Wilkerson, Pam Church, Debbie Muire, Pat Goodson, Julie Bryant, Susan Hubbard, Lisa Powell, Margie Turbyfill, Kilmer Taylor, Martha Webb, and Mimi Martin applaud.

Happiness Is " . . . Being Miss Mariner"

To Cathy Jaehnig happiness is " . . . finding a nickel and two scoops of ice cream."

"It's the Merry Month of May!"
Ninty-three paper flowers, twenty-four girls, a red runway, and the dance band all turn into the fifth annual Miss Mariner Pageant. Although Nancy Eure has to practice her lines at least fifty times, (and over the loudspeaker too!) Linda Bryant has to pull the curtain with leather gloves, there is too much food at the Thursday night dinner for the contestants and judges, and despite all Mrs. Congleton's and Mrs. Evans' worries, on Friday night the judges do select ten semi-finalists. Mrs. Howe and Mrs. Phillips try to keep order, whispering that anyone out of the dressing room will be disqualified. As the girls present their talent — everything from modeling original clothes to a Shirley Temple pantomine — five girls in gowns run to the Dari-Snak for Cokes.
Finally after suits, gowns, talent, and questions, Cathy Jaehnig is Miss Mariner 1969!
Happiness to the Mariner Staff is another successful Miss Mariner Pageant.

The judges and contestants enjoy an informal dinner on Thursday night before the talent presentation.

Ann Czarneki, in native costume, sings "Al Baccio" for her talent.

Cindy Hollard, wearing a dress she made, plays a piano piece "Misty."

Cathy Jaehnig Reigns In "Merry Month Of May"

The ten semi-finalists, Ann Czarneki, Heli Roth, Sue Brooks, Anita Edge, Cathy Jaehnig, Cindy Holland, Patty Goodson, Julie Bryant, Margie Turbyfill, and Mimi Martin, applaud as the judges are introduced.

A radiant Miss Mariner, Cathy Jaehnig, is surrounded by Cindy Holland, first runner-up, Pat Humme, 1968 Miss Mariner, and Sue Brooks, second runner-up.

Anita Edge, one of the five finalists, performs a free exercise routine to "Mutiny on the Bounty."

Sophomore class contestant, Sue Brooks shows her talent by modeling clothes she designed and made.

Band Elects Debbie Muir Band Sweetheart

BAND SWEETHEART COURT – First Row: Lucia Eager, Debbie Muir, Band Sweetheart; Steffie McGehee; Second Row: Danny Campbell, Jimmy Ames, Russell Holliday.

The Band Sweetheart Concert is the biggest concert of the year for the band. It is during this concert that the band honors a senior girl for her outstanding contributions to the band. During the concert of "Midnight In Roses", Debbie Muir is named Band Sweetheart. A reception is held afterwards and all the proceeds help to buy new band equipment.

Lucia, Debbie, and Steffie enjoy the reception.

Debbie admires the bouquet of roses she received as Band Sweetheart.

Debbie and Jimmy watch the reception in Debbie's honor.

Assembly Reveals Rewards Of Year

This annual spring awards assembly gives the students, faculty, and outside organizations a chance to honor groups and individuals, both students and faculty, at Ferguson. Whether it is dedicating the Mariner, to Miss Fitzwater or recognizing students that have received scholarships, this assembly shows visible proof of the accomplishments Ferguson has made throughout the year. The fact that awards are given in almost every field of endeavor shows that Mariners are constantly working to better themselves in the eyes of their schoolmates, their teachers, and in the eyes of the community. The Geography Club is named the best club in the school by the SCA and the Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y are named the best clubs of their kind in the state. Congratulations Mariners and may the lights of your accomplishments always be a beacon for others to see.

Academics

From math to home economics, science to typing,
woodshop to physical education,
chorus to English,
students gather knowledge for tomorrow.
A faculty challenges its students to ponder, to consider, to evaluate, to discern,
to discover, to wonder.
Learning can be fun:
excited discussions,
challenging debates,
stimulating guest speakers,
related films and novels.
Learning can be work:
hours of reading,
days of study,
months of grades,
semesters of classes.
From all these evolve keener minds, clearer purposes.
Guided by a skilled,
trained, wise, understanding,
and eminently human faculty, students' footsteps are directed to the future.

Mrs. Passage And Assistant Principals

Mrs. Passage reviews plans for coming events.

Ferguson principals lead a life of signing forms,
answering questions,
talking with parents,
explaining to teachers,
checking attendance, evaluating classrooms, and coordinating activities.
Together they guide the faculty and students in a cadence of unity.
They promote school spirit,
speak at assemblies,
determine policies,
and approve club projects.
Eager to praise, reluctant to find fault, Mrs. Passage, Mr. Willis, and Mr. Newsome deserve the honor and glory Ferguson High School students so often accord them.

Mrs. Mary L. Passage, Principal.

Show Interest In Student Activities

Assistant Principals, Mr. Willis and Mr. Newsome, tamper with school property.

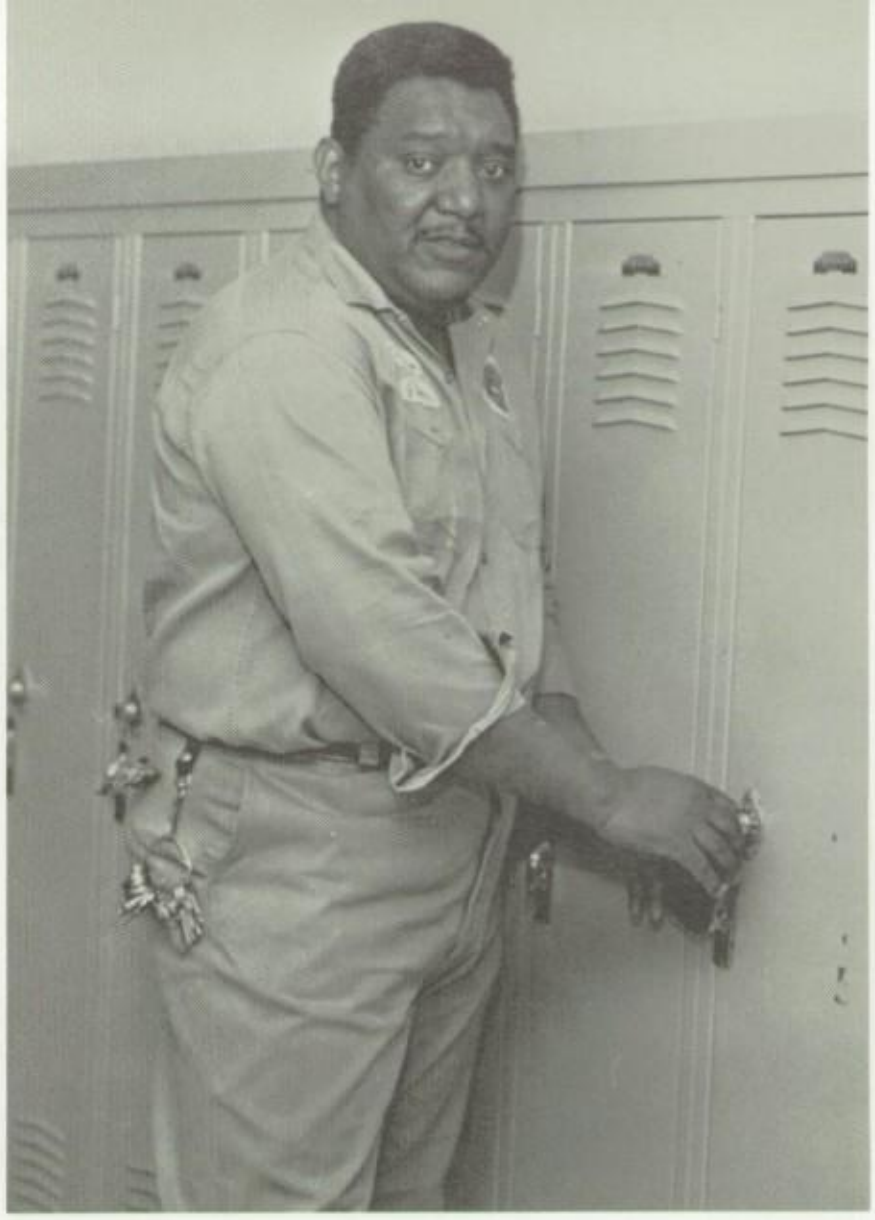
Mr. Newsome lends an ear to student problems.

May I have your attention, please . . .

The Activities Director, Mr. Harry Harmon, admits a student to a basketball game.

Mrs. Alice White, Cafeteria Manager, arranges desserts for student lunches.

Visiting Teacher, Mrs. Katherine Adams, plans instruction for home bound students.



One of the minor jobs of Mr. Brown, Custodian, is repairing lockers.

Administering medical aid to students is a full-time job for Mrs. Virginia Myers, the school Nurse.

Office Secretaries Aid Teachers And Students

Not only teachers and students make up a school but also the school nurse, a custodian, the secretaries and the cafeteria manager.
In each task they show they care;
they serve all day long.
Bandaging a finger
or taking a pulse,
opening a jammed locker or sweeping a hall, signing a tardy slip
or answering questions, serving a hot lunch
or planning a menu:
each worker does his part to make a day at Ferguson High School more enjoyable and more efficient.

Mrs. Granger wades through office paper work.

At the end of another day, Mrs. Gentry returns IBM cards to teachers' boxes.

Listening to Simon and Garfunkel records in the library? Why not?
Music creates the new contemporary feeling, a new approach to studying.
A library is not always an overdue fine, a reserved book, or an angry scowl from a librarian.
A display of student art work, new books, a record library, and a new copying machine are some of the additions to the library which have improved the materials available to the students.
Friendly help from the librarians and the library assistants guide the students to reference materials, audio-visual aids, or books of individual interest.
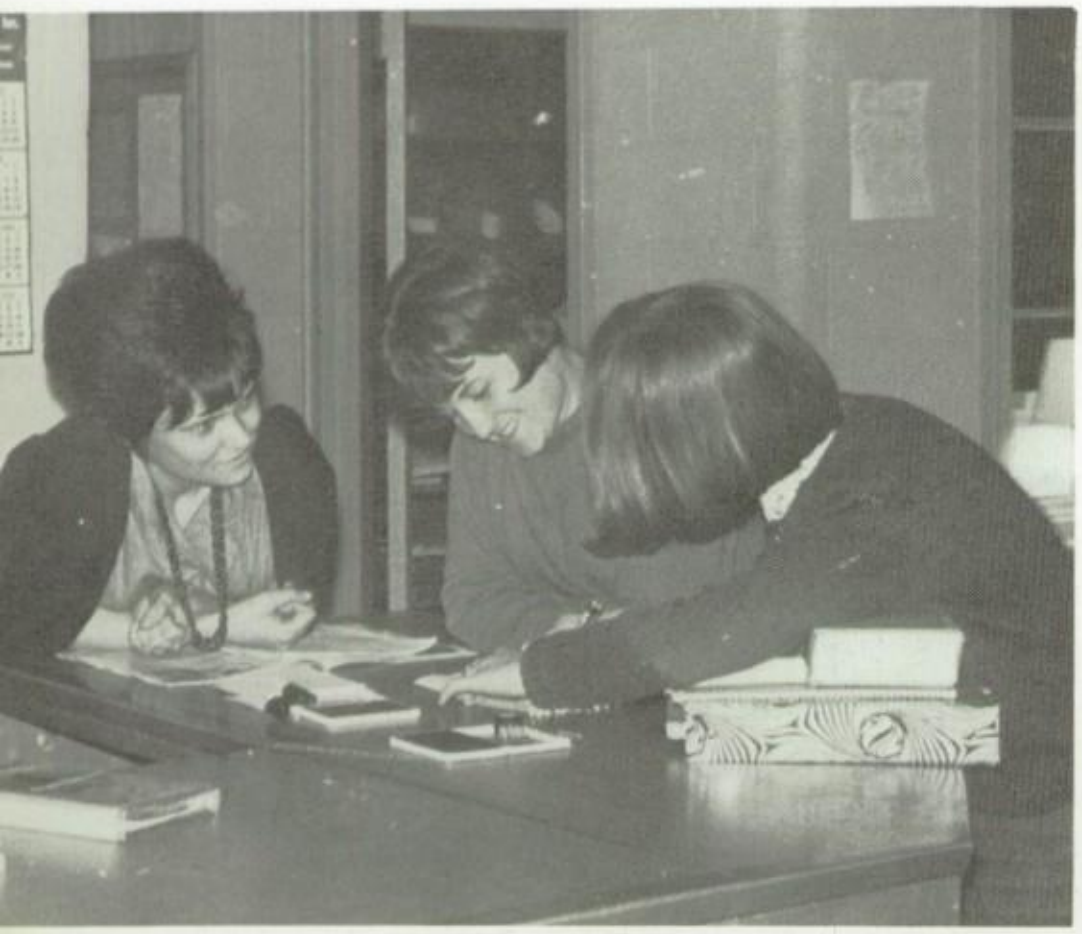
It's where the action is at F.H.S.



Students and teachers alike seek library help from Mrs. Csehi.

Helping students find an interesting book brings a smile to Mrs. Smith's face.

Counselors Guide Students' Selection Of Classes

The guidance office becomes a haven for students as they select the right college, decide on a suitable vocation, choose a high school course of study or even discuss a teacher conflict.
Unlike the situation in a busy classroom, in this place of quiet, the troubled student can find a moment and a friendly face with whom to share his disappointments or problems.
Through their encouraging words and patient understanding, and their wise advice,
the counselors help the student to see his particular problem in its proper prospective.
They help the student gain the much needed sense of security or direction toward making the needed adjustments or best decision in the world of high school and to the demanding world of the future.

Life is not always math, science, English or French, life is more:
the thrill of a spotlight,
the hum of a potter's wheel,
the command of trumpets, or even the fragrance of hot rolls.
Through speech and drama students learn to create and portray roles.
From one such performance may emerge a Shakespeare or a Julie Andrews.
To some, footlight and makeup are a kind of magic;
to others, an expression of self emerges through clay, paper, paint, string.
The role of the artist is to transform the world of color, line, form, texture, and movement into truth, beauty, and reality.
Though the world of the artist is often silent serenity, the musician's world is a cacophony of sounds and a symphony of melodies Homemaking is also an art; within it is the music of a bubbling broth,
the magic of rising dough,
or even the praise of a hand-made garment.
Life is more; it is each individual tracing his talent on a stage, through a piece of sculpture, with a golden horn or even in a souffle.

Language Courses Use Lab Techniques

The Foreign Language Department is Spanish, French, German, and Latin teachers and their problems which include the not-too-fluent students, a hesitant "Halba usted Espanol?" and an unhesitating "Nein" in reply to the question "Sprechen sie Deutsch?" Translating stories, conjugating verbs, and attempting to absorb a little of that garble that the teacher spouts are all part of learning to communicate in a foreign language. With communication in a different language comes a sense of pride and accomplishment for both the student and the teacher. With communication in a new tongue comes a better understanding of people.

Memorizing those endless formulas, proving incomprehensible proofs, solving the endless word problems, working the seven problems on 316, penciling through mounds of theorems, inconceivable assumptions, and paper, constitute mathematics at Ferguson.
Teachers drill interested students and the not-so-interested students in all the aspects of mathematics from basic principles of arithmatic to the complexities of calculus.
Mr. Lebold and his "one hour" tests,
Mrs. Taback and her overhead projector,
Mr. Johnson and his logarithms, television math and a small room, a two-dollar slide rule and a compass a plastic protractor and a dozen erasers, plus a profusion of algebra problems help to prepare the math students to compete in the annual Math Contest.
Pounding tension headaches, tired eyes, all ten fingernails down to the quick, and pages upon pages of scratch paper depict the typical math student trying to improve his skill and accuracy in the baffling field of mathematics.

Counting DI's in Drosophila bottles, taking a trip to the Planetarium, determining altitude and recovering the 265 rockets constructed and launched by inquisitive students, and preparing for the Science Fair comprise the Science Department of FHS. Memorizing the elements and formulas and learning the laws of the universe enable most students to comprehend a few of the complexities of this life. Guest speakers arouse new interests with intriguing topics for discussion and thrilling classroom demonstrations. This course of study affords students a better conception and understanding of the world around them.

Industrial Arts Develop Skills

The smell of sawdust, paint and varnish, the buzz of a saw, the swish of a broom, and the inconsistent pounding of hammers are familiar to students who participate in the Industrial Arts program at FHS. Designing and drawing plans for a house, making garden trowels and letter openers, acquiring the skill to cut sheet metal by a jig-saw, a band saw, and the lathe, cutting and re-cutting wood for bookends, learning the proper way to work the lathe, and finishing off mahogany and pine trays are a few of the time-consuming projects which prepare students for the future. This laborious yet enjoyable course prepares the interested student to step into his place in the challenging and precise world of industry.

The Social Studies Department makes a great effort to involve the students in the world of historical sights, land formations, people, and politics. Some Juniors visit Williamsburg to participate in a special studies program. Through inductive learning processes, these students gain an insight into the Eighteenth Century man. Some of the Senior Government classes take a bus trip to Washington, D.C. Other sociology classes tour East End to study social and economic problems on the local level. The annual Citizenship Assembly emphasizes the responsibilities of a citizen; students listen attentively to guest speakers; a four-act skit portrays the different aspects of patriotism. One government class produces a film-slide-tape documentary on the Newport News city government. The Geography students win all state awards in project competition; the department wins the title of Best Geography Department in the State. In colonial Williamsburg geography students "land" and, after careful planning, set up a "colony," complete with a governmental plan. Involvement makes better citizens for tomorrow.

"Go, you chicken fat, go!"
Touching toes, doing sit-ups, running the 600 yard dash, and throwing a softball build strong bodies
four different ways.
One stray tennis shoe,
a quick, cold shower,
dirty socks and a wrinkled gym suit
are a part of the variety of a physical education program.
Broken fingernails,
a crowded mirror,
skinned knees, and sore muscles
somehow can be ignored
as grace and agility emerge.

Modern dance, instructed by Miss West, provides an opportunity for freedom of expression.

The competition of a game of soccer or volleyball, the satisfaction of a well-played game of basketball, three passes completed and two touchdowns scored in an hour's work on the football field, and a match on the tennis court or on the mats nurture the boys' desire to compete and help them to respect teamwork.
The coaches work hard with the boys, the many boys who trample in and out of the gym daily, class after class, and try to instill in them qualities of good sportsmanship. Exercises and five long laps around the track, pullups, situps, and the 50 yard dash, develop muscles, plenty of blisters, and sound minds and bodies.

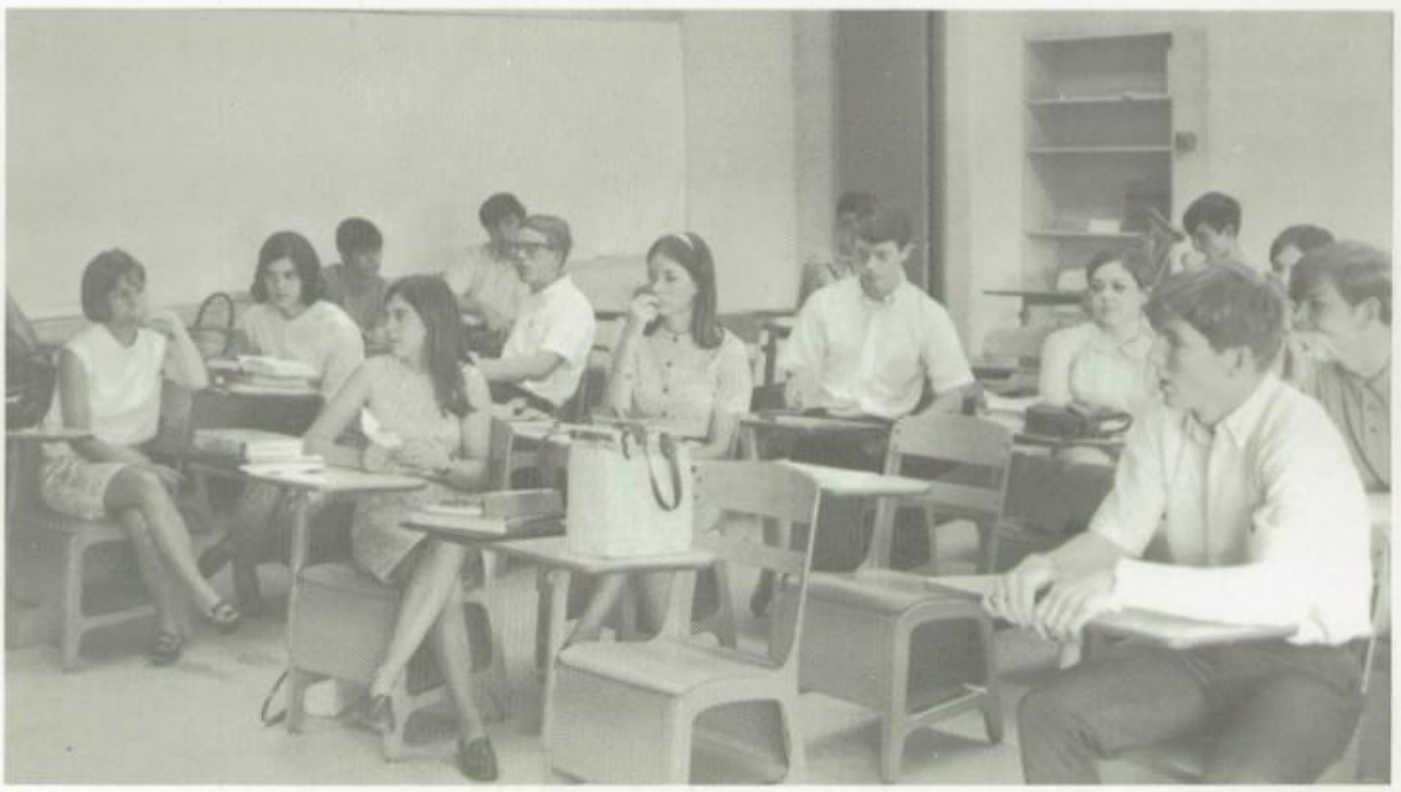
PARENTS
WARNED
US ABOUT



Seniors

The last five years are filled with memories, some of these vivid, some vague;
some are cherished, some are best forgotten.
It all began on a hot August day.
The maze of halls and upperclassmen, changing classes and learning to study, and the chaos in the cafeteria were all part of adjusting to FHS.
The Freshman year was filled with Powderpuff basketball, doughnuts sales, and no exams.
Anne Cowardin led the class through the Sophomore year.
Twerp Week and the girls' revenge, folk dances, charms and tie tacks, and games in the new gym marked the halfway point in high school.
The Junior year was filled with ordering rings, decorating for the ring dance defeating the seniors in Powderpuff 19–14, and finally planning the prom:
"Emerald Reflections" – the best ever!
Flowers, chicken wire, a green castle – work, work, work, and then – The prom became a reality. Everyone said a sad farewell to the greatest night of the year and then turned his thoughts toward being a Senior!

Neal Rosenbaum Leads Seniors Through Year

Miss Fitzwater plans another senior function.

The Senior year is one of new privileges – the class has its own cafeteria and lunch line and they have a picnic and assembly. In addition, the class has a few extra days of its own – "Grub Day", "Grip Day", and "Senior Southern Stud Day". Meanwhile, the class has a banquet at the Chamberline (at $4.50 a plate!) and the cafeteria honors them with a luncheon. In their studies, the Seniors conduct mock trials, make a film on city government, and read Hamlet. Finally, Senior Day arrives and the class enjoys the antics of a Laugh-In style assembly and a picnic (was somebody really skinny-dipping and did Mr. Willis really keep six "strong" boys from throwing him into the water?) The Prom, "The Isle of Golden Dreams," culminates months of expectations and Graduation marks the end of the year and the beginning of a new life.

Underclassmen

The Underclassman – the Eighth Grader the Freshman, the Sophomore, or the Junior – becomes aware of himself and the people about him, gives of himself, and receives from others.
Hundreds of footsteps crowd the halls,
as students live and learn amid classes, bells, dances, assemblies, meetings.
The Eighth Grader comes through the doors of FHS, feeling as if he does not belong, carrying all his books for the first week, running down the hall so he will not be late to his next class, and having a locker – maybe one that really works.
The Freshman, returning and discovering a new year, enjoys not being the "little one," or a Mouse any more.
The Sophomore, half way through his high school career, wonders how his class will ever finance the next Prom.
The Junior begins to think about college and what lies ahead for him.
As the days turn to weeks and the weeks to months, the Junior begins to think about the days ahead as a Senior and remember his year as an Underclassman.

Class Officers And Advisor Lead

Plans, meetings, projects anticipation, and secrets are only a part of a junior year.
A Microphony game,
a ring order, a dance,
National Honor Society, College Boards, a last year of gym, the Ring Dance, and the Prom spice the year with not only excitement
but also disappointment for the Juniors — the Class of '70.
Whether it's when they are collecting for the Christmas Fund, selling movie tickets, or running for a senior class office, realization comes that in only one year their footsteps will be mere echoes in the halls of Ferguson.

Officers Lead Class Through Sophomore Year

Mrs. Burt snatches a few minutes of free reading time from her duties as Sophomore Class Advisor.

With two years completed the Sophomores look back on their life at Ferguson with few regrets.
They eagerly anticipate the two exciting years to come.
As they do things in a group, sponsor a special dance, sit together at the games, collect food for the needy, meet as a class with Pat, Bill, and Gray entertaining, the Sophomores build pride in their class — the Class of '71.
The annual Christmas card sale, the traditional Powderpuff game with the ninth grade,
"Lick Warwick" lollipops, and even class dues
make the vision of a prom more of a reality.

Freshman Council Plans For Future

No longer are they Mice, lost, confused, and young;
now bolder, more confident,
now they are Freshmen.
As their ninth grade year passes, they enter all phases of school life at Ferguson.
Kerry leads and Mr. Crippen advises as Freshmen sell postcards,
make maps in geography,
sponsor a dance,
cheer for the teams,
join interesting clubs,
struggle with French,
take part in sports,
wrestle with word problems in algebra, read Romeo and Juliet, and play Powderpuff Basketball.
All of these activities establish the presence of the Class of '72.

Mr. Crippen, Freshman Class Advisor, checks his record of postcard sales.

Mice Step Into

Hundreds of new faces
swarm the halls;
the Mice arrive!
Stumbling through the halls loaded with books,
searching for a seat
in the cafeteria,
the Mice find their place.
From the first pep assembly to the last football game, the Eighth Graders adjust to high school life.
It is a year of firsts:
selling postcards,
decorating doors for Christmas, learning the alma mater and cheers, selling Fracture the Farmers buttons for the big game, and helping with Clean-Up Olympics.
Confused, nervous, happy, they look toward the future.
Now they have made an imprint on Ferguson High School.
Welcome, little Mariners!

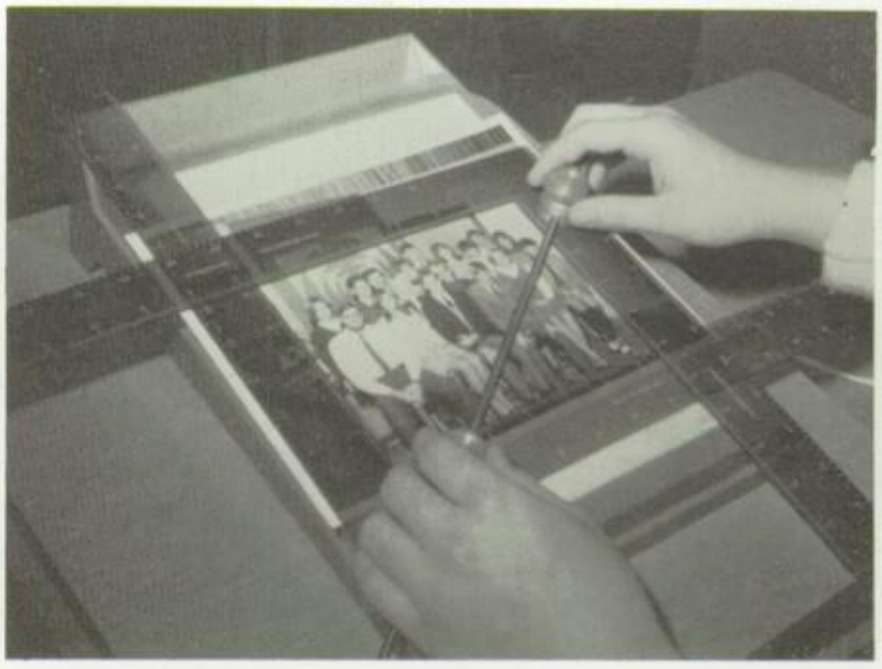
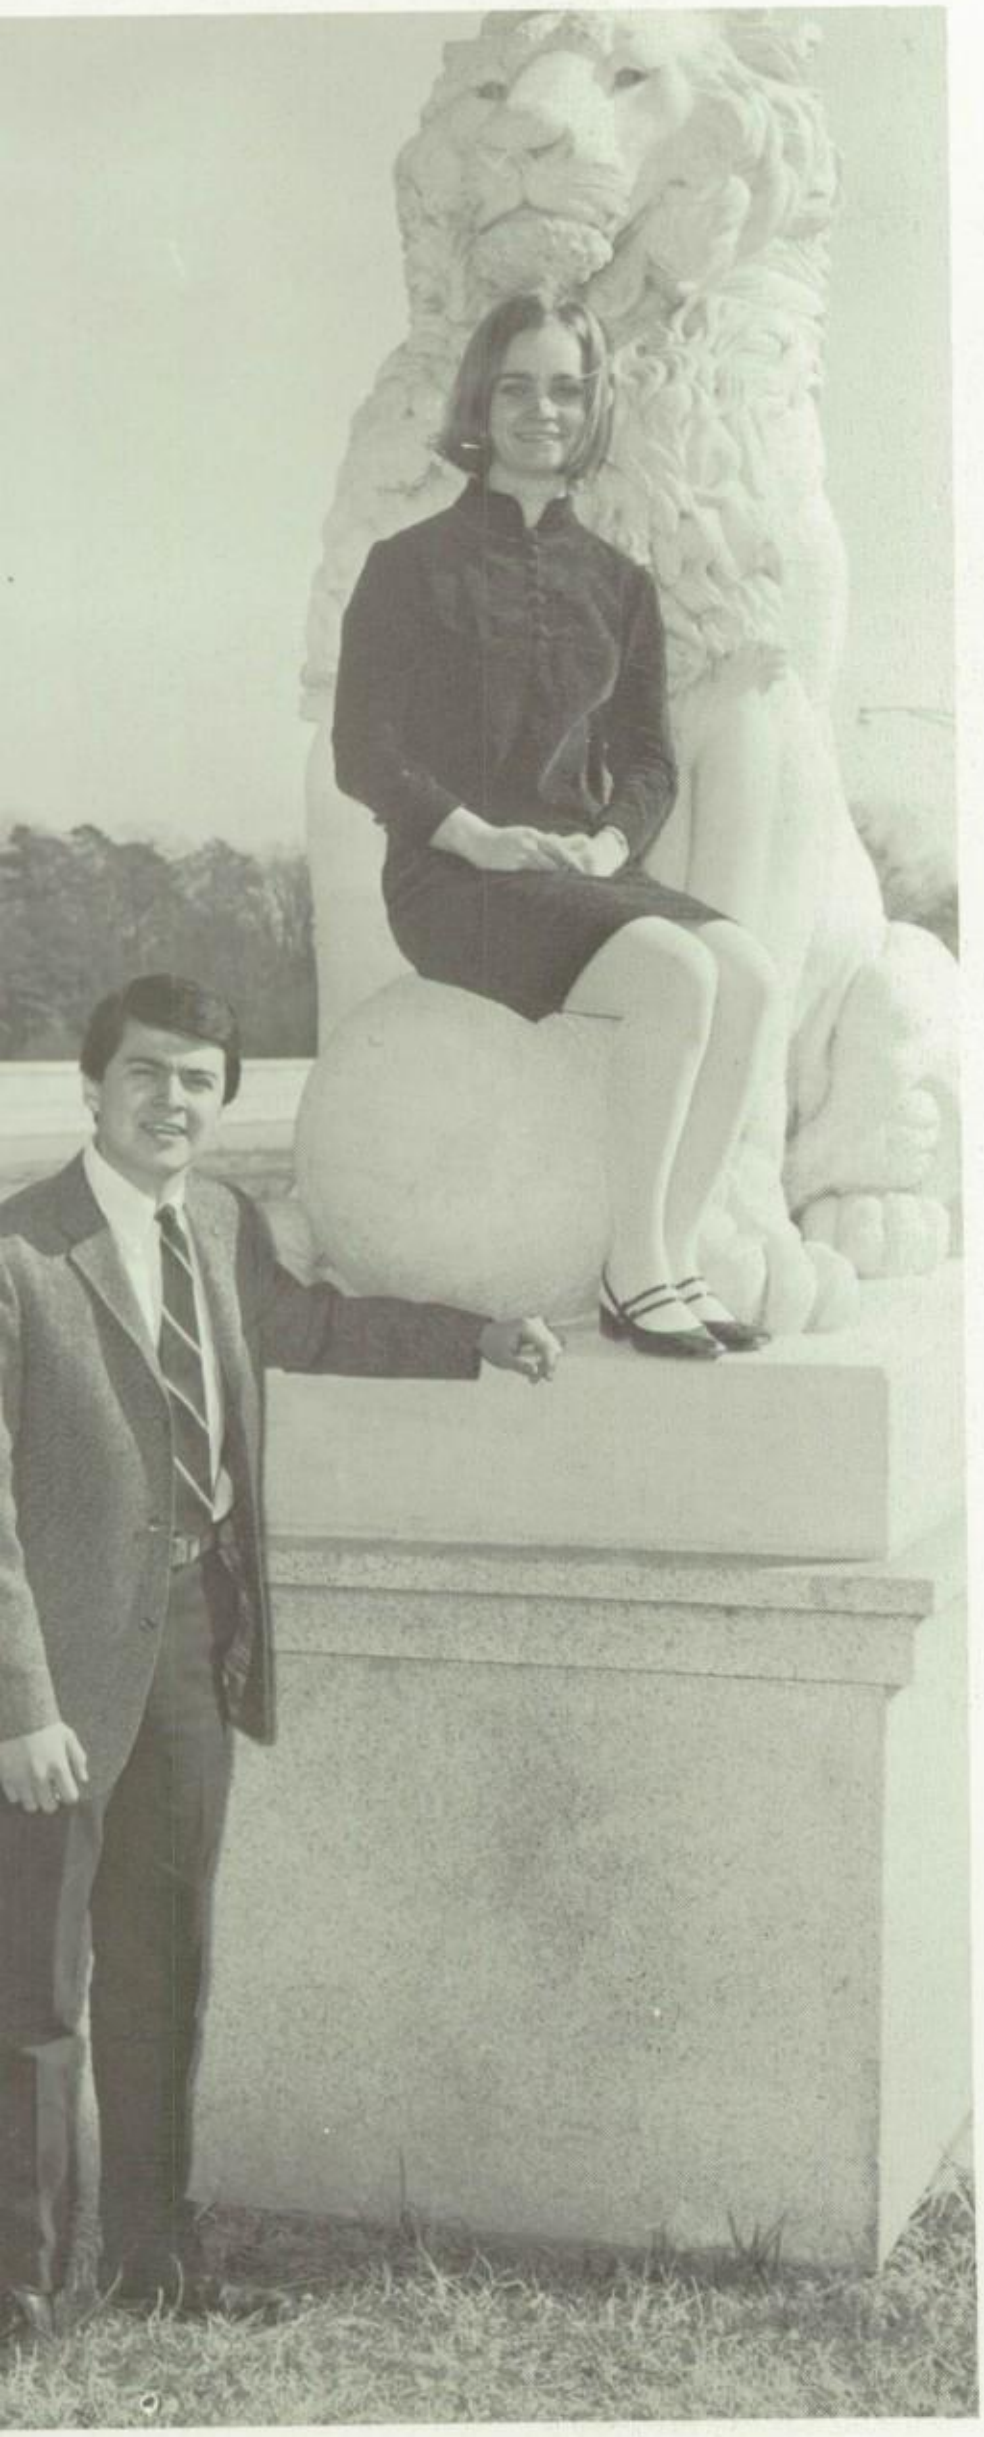
FERGUSON





Organizations

Whether in AFS,
Science or Math Club,
Keyettes, Campus Life,
Hi-Y or FTA,
Ferguson High School offers all students
the opportunity to meet new people, the chance to develop hidden talents, the occasion to explore new interests.
Meeting after school,
planning for spectacular projects, having five people at a meeting or a hundred and five, getting together in Room 104, working as a group in the gym are only parts of belonging to a school organization.
For each student is a place, a place in which he can expand mild curiosities into creative talents.
In each club are people, people who want to multiply mere acquaintances into sterling companionships.
Organizations provide students paths to new friends and learnings.

Ferguson Hosts SCA District Convention

SCA President Jay Taylor discusses plans for district convention with Miss Olney.

A group of homeroom representatives, a slate of outstanding officers, and a patient faculty advisor together form the SCA which penetrates all phases of life at Ferguson.
Somehow out of all the confusion of endless meetings and hours of work come the spectacular Homecoming, an organized Stunt Nite, an excited Spirit Week, colorful bulletin boards,
and a new constitution.
The SCA works with the administration in coordinating the activities of the student body.
Sponsoring the District Convention, collecting for the needy at Christmas, boosting school spirit at games are some of the projects of the Student Co-operative Association.
It provides the channel for all ideas for a better school and a better world at Ferguson.

SCA Committees Function Efficiently

Pep Committee Chairmen Susie Peters and Carolyn Hooper spend many Monday afternoons painting those great spirit banners.

The SCA, under the leadership of Miss Olney and Jay Taylor, has one of the most active and productive years. The financial success of Stunt Night makes it possible for another delegate to be sent to Girl's and Boy's State and for the SCA to buy a full page in the MARINER for the first time. In addition to these accomplishments, Angie Ponzo and Forrest Wall initiate the first Clean-Up Olympics, and the SCA gives an Easter Egg hunt for deaf and blind children, holds a food-clothing drive at Christmas, and hosts the district convention. In the Awards assembly the House and Grounds Committee, the Homecoming Committee, the Pep Committee, and the Stunt Night Committee are cited for outstanding work. It was a very good year.

Steve Yates, Ferguson's own Bill Cosby, is a smash hit at the SCA Stunt Nite.

Ree Stone leads children from the Virginia State School for the Deaf and Blind on an SCA sponsored Easter Egg Hunt.

NHS Members Operate Bookstore

National Honor Society is a great bunch of kids! These students possess the qualities of scholarship, leadership, character, and service. Those memorable induction ceremonies, wearing the black robes and gold stoles, looking desperately for the person they have to tap, standing for one-and-a-half hours on the stage, forgetting a speech, knocking over the candles because their hands are shaking, and being the twenty-third name on a list of twenty-three. The members attend conferences, attend the bookstore (if they don't forget), and plan the Christmas tea. Several dedicated girls make a new banner and the Juniors honor the Senior members with a spring banquet. NHS is a combination of tears, shock, and pride.

Staff "A" Records Another Great Year

A yearbook? A simple thing to do someone could say in the fall.
Then come posed candids, bleeding pages and a job number,
copy and layout sheets,
running heads and dummies,
a scaleograph and a beauty pageant.
Deadlines seem years away as idle hours dwindle by;
suddenly a twenty page section is due in only two weeks.
Looking for WVEC all afternoon, getting two new sponsors in the middle,
cropping scores of pictures, writing letters to judges choosing a theme for "Miss Mariner" will all be forgotten when annuals are distributed in the fall and everything begins again.

Windjammer Voices The World of FHS

"Who's got my T-square?"
"Tom! The glue has dried up!"
"What's a five letter word for committee?" Writing a bi-monthly newspaper affords the students an opportunity to turn sixth period class in Room 137 into an award winning publication.
Tuesday nights without supper, a lost headline that took an hour to make,
two columns of empty space on the feature page, the rush to complete a story are compensated by the satisfaction of a quiet homeroom period every other Friday as students delight in reading about themselves and their school.
Spicy letters to the editor, stimulating and pertinent editorials, interesting features and good sports coverage keep the Windjammer a student paper in which all at Ferguson High can take pride.

Key Club Fulfills Motto "We Build"

Unsold calendars, stale peanut brittle, and pandemonium at meetings comprise the Ferguson High School Key Club.
Key Clubbers collect for Muscular Dystrophy as well as listen to speakers with whom they often disagree. The members also participate in the Clean-Up Olympics, hold a caucus to select new members, and suffer financial setbacks. This is all part of the different aspects of boys working together to serve both their school and the entire community.
On Monday nights the boys meet under the direction of Tim Lietzke and the guidance of Mr. Johnson to discuss service and money-making projects, always trying to come up with some new ideas.
At meetings held with other Key Clubs in the area, they exchange thoughts and opinions; and they even invite the Keyettes to attend one such meeting.
One merely has to look around to see that the Key Club has left its mark on the life at F.H.S.

Keyettes Serve School And Community

Every other Monday a group of girls meet in "Murph's" room.
It's the Keyettes!
Selling booster badges
to raise money,
licking envelopes for the celebrity auction,
and stapling together a victory chain to boast school spirit are typical sights around Ferguson.
The hard work is mixed with the laughter of sleepless pajama parties, meetings with Key Club, and the chaos of thirty-six girls gathered in one room.
All this adds up to a "club that's better than Key Club."

Keyettes Heli Roth, Anne Hornsby, and Cindy Lowe scour restroom walls during Clean-Up Olympics.

Hi–Y Members Act In SCA Stunt Nite

Hi-Y means responsibility, duty, and service;
a group of young men working together,
devoting time and talent to improve their school and local community.
Hi-Y gives these students an opportunity to meet new people,
to gain maturity,
and to cultivate an active part in the world of their school today and of their community tomorrow.

Tri–Hi–Y Undertakes Many Service Projects

"Create, maintain, and extend" embodies the spirit, motivation, and purpose of Tri-Hi-Y at Ferguson High School.
Through worthwhile projects these young women have a chance to help someone less fortunate.
They often help someone else discover a better life; often they discover within themselves
a deeper understanding of the value of friendship and the abundance of blessings within their own lives.
As Tri-Hi-Y members create new ideals,
maintain scholarship,
extend service,
they contribute a part of themselves to the world of their school and their lives of the future.

Spanish Club Learns Of Life In Foreign Lands

By means of

and guest speakers,
the Spanish Club

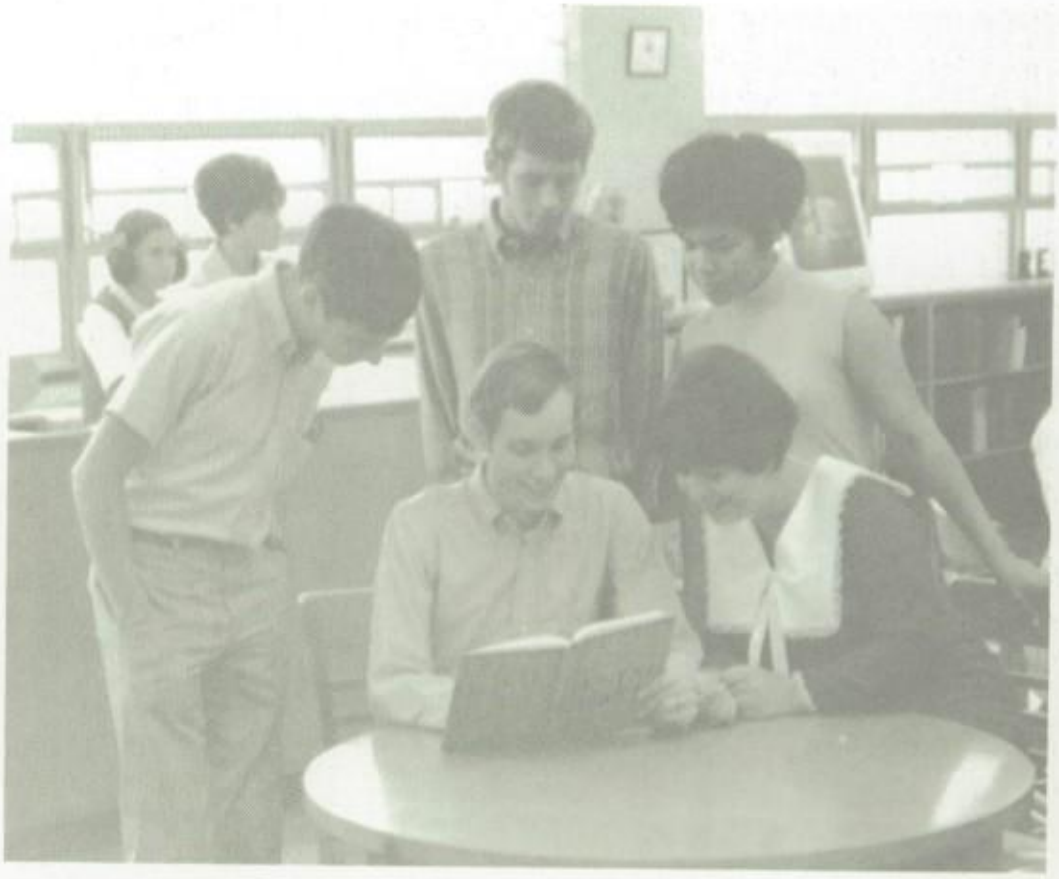
French Club Plans Interesting Programs

The French Club exists to encourage an increased knowledge about French culture. In addition to listening to guests lecturers, the club visits Fort Monroe, holds a banquet (does chocolat mousse mean chocolate moose?) and goes Christmas caroling. The big decision of the year is to stop singing the French national anthem, the Marsellaise, at meetings after years of arguments on the subject. Under the leadership of Cathy Ramsey and Madame Malval, the French Club is not only honorary members, but for interested students as well who want to learn about France through seeing films and guest speakers who diligently explain to the club members life in France.

Latin Club Plans Annual Banquet

The Latin Club under the leadership of Bruce Knox, features programs on Roman customs. At Christmas (Saturnalia to Latin Clubbers) the members celebrate the occasion at a meeting. The club awarded Mrs. Poindexter, the Latin Club advisor for many years, a gift for her outstanding loyalty to the club upon her retirement. At the traditional banquet, the new officers are initiated and the old members dressed as the aristocracy give the command for the new members to perform various "entertainment" for the upper class!



Latin Club members argue a point in a story about the Roman gods with President Bruce Knox (center).

Geography Club Is A Tremendous Success

The Geography Club offers an opportunity for students to learn about other people, cultures, and social customs by listening to guest speakers and seeing films. Mr. Crippen forms the club from his advanced geography class, the first on the peninsula. The members further world understanding through an international parade and a Christmas International Banquet with foods from every corner of the world. As revealed in the awards assembly, the SCA votes the club the best organization in the school for the many awards the students won in state competition. The club ends the year with a picnic with Mr. Passage showing slides on Anartica. In the wide world of today, the Geography Club helps students realize that while oceans and mountains divide nations, it's a small world after all!

AFS Promotes World Peace And Friendship

"It is better to light one candle than to curse the darkness."
This year the A.F.S. at Ferguson lights two candles by sponsoring Heli and Oscar's year of study in the United States.
The American Field Service provides an opportunity for many to learn about other lands, people, languages, traditions, ideas, and habits.
Heli and Oscar share with all at F.H.S. the belief that youth can do a part to promote world peace and understanding.

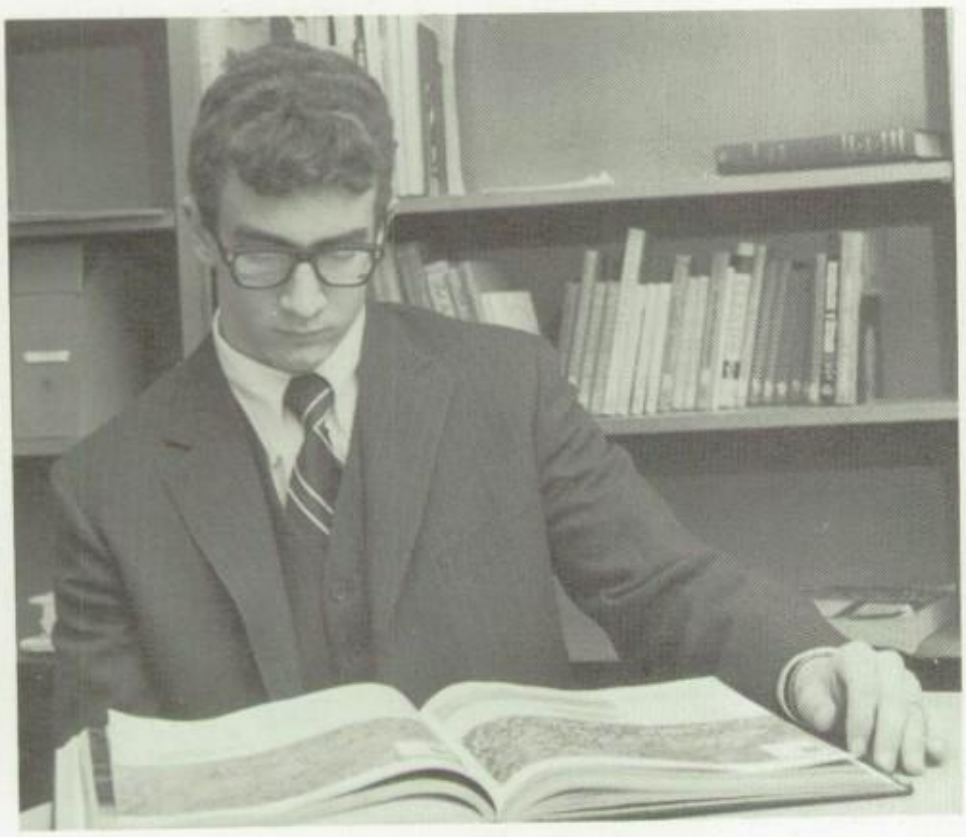
Exchange Students Speak At AFS Assembly



Craig Corson recalls his AFS summer in Austria.

Heli and Oscar arrive one day in August and their year in the U.S.A. begins.
Making hundreds of friends, eating hamburgers, and watching T.V., initiates them to their new life. It is a year of pep assemblies, club meetings, and speeches. Little by little – then by leaps and bounds Heli and Oscar adjust to their new "home".
Ferguson not only welcomes two new students, but also sends Craig Corson to Austria to spend a summer learning about the customs, language, and life of the people and securing with them the common bond of friendship.
All three students will remember their stay in a foreign country.
Heli, Oscar, and Craig discover that people are the same all over the world, and that peace and understanding exist.

Heli Roth unlocks the door to a new world.

Mariner Band Promotes Spirit

Every morning the members of the Mariner Band arrive at school to practice, practice, practice. Wearing heavy uniforms and clunky shoes, practicing drills and marching formations, and correcting all those sour notes prepare the members of the band for the many parades, concerts and half-time shows they perform in. Under the direction of Mr. Webb, the majorettes and band members work to make the F.H.S. Mariner Band one of the best!

Cadet Band Wins Parade Honors

The Cadet Band rehearses in preparation for the halftime performance which will entertain the spectators at the Homecoming Game. Cadet Band members spend many hours practicing before school in the mornings and perfecting their marching precision. Neither freezing winds or scalding pavement prevents the band from drilling up and down the school parking lot each day. They are rewarded for their efforts by the applause of the crowds and the numerous parade honors won. Congratulations go to Mr. Cale and his school spirited organization for another very successful year.

The members of A Cappella follow Mr. Forrest's directions during the Winter Concert.

A Cappella Presents Three School Concerts

The Ferguson High School A Cappella Choir consists of sixty boisterous students, one nimble-fingered accompanist, and one very brave director. The choir members practice each day during second period, in preparation for the numerous concerts and performances that occupy A Cappella's busy schedule. A Cappella is trying to find a robe that's not too long or too short, having to sing solos when you're scared to death, learning selections from the various periods of music history, and singing the immortal "Battle Hymn of the Republic." About one-third of the A Cappella members are chosen as Madrigals. This group meets every Tuesday afternoon in the choral room to practice the difficult pieces of Medieval Music. Under the direction of Mr. Forrest, the Madrigal singers perform in churches and for the student body at FHS. These students spend many hours rehearsing and perfecting their music, but the hard work shows up in performances. The distinctive mark of the Madrigals is that they always seem to enjoy the music they are singing.

Music Society Hosts Performers

Every fourth Thursday afternoon after school in the choral room the president of the Music Society calls the meeting to order and old business is completed. Then the members settle back to enjoy a presentation by Anne Rowe of the folk songs of France, an explanation by Mr. McMurran of "Peter and the Wolf", and a visit from Larry O'Brien with an explanation of the trials and tribulations of disc jockeys. Student Participation Day heads the agenda for spring events with the Music Society Assembly ending the year on a good note.

Some of the students participate in the Workshop Chorus, and they also try out to become a member of A Cappella next year. Mr. Forrest is in charge of these eighty students and he helps them develop their tone and vowel production. The members soon discover that there is a lot more to singing than meets the ear.

Thespians Send "Hairy Falsetto" To Mobile

Another Thespian production "Hip Hippi Horray", is a success.

Ferguson's Thespian Troupe 1629 does much which the student body may be proud – the financial successful "Hip Hippi Hooray", the "excellent" rating for "The Hairy Falsetto" in Mobile, and being named Sweepstakes winner in the Shakespearian Tournament. In addition to these outstanding performances, Thespians must pay that "exhorbitant" 15 cents "every once in a while" and go through the traditional initiations where they do everything from acting out a telephone book to dramatizing a piece of sizzling bacon. Backstage, Thespians prepare sets for "The Wind in the Willows" only a half hour before curtain. Thespians is a group of students and a bearded leader that demands the best acting and often he gets it!

Masquers Aid In Drama Productions

The Masquers Guild often called "Baby Thespians," is on the way up. The new club helps to advance the standards of excellence in the dramatic arts. The members work to earn enough points to be eligible to become full-fledged Thespians. Working backstage with props scenery, and costumes, applying make-up, working the lights and performing in plays and impromptu skits enables students to learn more about the various fields of dramatic production. Each student is able to contribute to the success of "Hip Hippy Hooray" and to the many one act plays produced during the year. The year is a success and all the hard work pays off. Eight members of the Masquers Guild at F.H.S. attend the Shakespeare Tournament and three students are elected to Thespians.

Debate Team Enoys Successful Season

The Debate Team helps members to learn proper debating techniques so that they are able to enter competition with other schools in the area. The topics these students debate on range from whether or not all United States citizens should have to serve their country to a discussion of whether or not to ban nuclear warfare instruments. After weeks of study and reading up on the topics they are to discuss, the team members participate in such tournaments as the James Blair Novice Tournament where Lou Ann Davis and Bruce Hake place first, the Warwick Invitational Debate Tournament, and the District Forensics Tournament.

Future Teachers Host Faculty Tea

What does it take to make punch for 95 people? The FTA knows because they host teas for new members, teachers, faculty, and the NNEA. Besides hosting teas, members find time to student teach at local elementary schools, hold a picnic to initiate new officers, participate in the tutorial system set up by Head Start, and give toys to underprivileged families at Christmas time for the Salvation Army. In addition, members sponsor a Sweetheart Dance with the Mariner Staff (that nets $40 profit!) and they even sell Homecoming flowers for a quarter the day after Homecoming!

FTA members provide refreshments for faculty and administration in observance of Teacher Appreciation Week.

FHA Practices Homemaking Sills

The Club strives this year to increase the homemaking skills of each member and to concentrate on the total homemaker. These girls constantly learn new techniques. Programs are planned to include one of Vepco's home economists who speaks on laundry problems and kitchen planning, and a local homemaker who finds cake decorating a profitable hobby. Dishes from foreign countries and Heli's talk about blood pancakes makes the International Dinner an unusual occasion. The Homemakers sell cookbooks and contribute money to the Daily Press Christmas Fund. Carolyn Riesbeck is elected Treasurer of the Federation. A new initiative and additional responsibilities give the Ferguson chapter of the Future Homemakers of America a new look.

Medical Careers Club Replaces FNA

The Medical Careers Club, under the leadership of Mrs. Myers and Sandra McFall, strives to acquaint interested students with the various fields that are within the medical field and the educational requirements, the training, and the to anwer any questions may have concerning the career they are considering. Visits to Riverside Hospital, lectures by doctors and nurses, and first hand experience as a Candy Striper are a few of the ways some of the club members are learning about their future career.

Members Operate Radio Equipment

"I've just got to get a message to you!" has a special meaning to the members of the Radio Club at Ferguson High School. Learning about radios and electronics provides a different field of interest to students. Wires, ear phones, and code numbers are familiar to the members who spend many hours working with the various pieces of radio equipment. Under the leadership of David Burns, the radio hams meet on Wednesday afternoons to learn more about the difficult technological aspects involved in the world of electronics. Communications with other people and the exchange of different ideas bring new outlooks on life and create profitable experiences. As long as people continue to speak, the Radio Club will fulfill its purpose.

Chess Club Members Develop Skills

"Check!" The excitement of competition, the urge to win, the taste of victory, and the frustration of defeat intrigue and fascinate the members of the Chess Club. Interested students are given an opportunity not only to learn the game but also to improve their skills. The members compete among themselves as well as within interschool matches and tournaments. At meetings held on Wednesday afternoons, under the supervision of Miss Fitzwater, guest speakers share their strategy and help members win in tournaments. Chess is a game that requires a lot of imagination and concentration, and this is exactly what these students must have in order to cry victoriously, "Checkmate!"

Math Intrigues Logical Minds

The sum of all interested students subtracted from the number of teachers, divided by the number of organizations, multiplied by the number of principals comprises Ferguson's Math Club.
An afternoon of analytical geometry, Matrix algebra, differential equations, the binomial theorem, Culer's formula, paper, pencils, plenty of erasers, and a great willingness to work hard guide the math students of FHS through a seemingly endless maze of logical conclusions and a few mistakes.
The Math Club adds intrigue to the lives of students, prepares them for the scientific world of the future, and further develops avid interests in the field of mathematics.

Members Explore Scientific World

Take a group of interested students, plus an advisor and a will to work, add energy and the yield is the Science Club. Field trips to the Nuclear Reactor, projects, science fairs, and awards, the study of the theories on DNA or the chemical formulas necessary for a three-month biology project, an astrological search of the stars, and a study of the digestive system of a worm or the brain of a frog broaden the horizons of study and extracurricular activity at FHS.
All work and a gram of play produces an intellectually profitable year of fun, work, and satisfaction in the Science Club.

ART CLUB — First Row: Robin Revere, President; Judy West, Vice President; Brenda Bridges, Secretary; Beppi Boatwright, Treasurer; Second Row: Angie Ponzo, Gale Lawson, William Thornton, Mary Lee Tidd, Jeanette Verlander, Margaret Garrison, Judy Fitzgerald, Carolyn Ward, Earline Ward; Third Row: Susan Lewis, Greg Montgomery, Dennis Godfrey, Jenny Turner, John Crawford, Gail Sasser, Mary McCurry.

Projects Further Creative Talents

Wednesday afternoon in Room 217 is the time for creating.
Students explore new media and perfect skills
in oils, tempera, and clay.
Individual projects
stimulate the imagination;
stitchery, batik, and sculpture are new ways to communicate.
Members discuss ideas,
offer criticism,
schedule trips to museums, and reschedule them
to accommodate everyone.
Then comes the annual picnic in May and the end of another creative year in the Art Club.

New Club Builds Christian Fellowship

A film on the "Flight of Apollo 8", other current events topics, guest speakers at meetings,
ideas of today's youth, and area club rallies help to build interest in the newly formed Campus Life Club.
This organization encourages students to develop an interest and take an active part in their school, community, and nation.
Mr. Johnson and Mrs. Poindexter act as co-sponsors and guide the members in the activities of the Campus Life Club.
Together they strive for a better understanding of the teenager and his place in the world.

are only a few of the projects which these business organizations sponsor.
Each day many of the club members leave school to work in various offices and stores as clerks, receptionists, and secretaries.
The students must develop such skills as typing business letters, taking notehand, and operating various office equipment.
DE and VOT provide interested students with an opportunity to learn about the business world through on the job training.
Maybe someday one of the members will end up as an executive on Wall Street!

Girls perform their routine at try-outs.

FHS Drill Team Is First In City

In September, Ferguson welcomes Glendyr Nealis from Texas and in a matter of days, she and Miss Childress begin work to form the first Drill Team in Newport News. After two weeks of tryouts, the new Drill Team becomes a reality. Performances during half-time at football games to the music in of "Spanish Flea" add much to school spirit. The girls make their own clever costumes, complete with top hats and canes, select their own music and work out routines. All too soon, Glendyr leaves and the Co-captains plan for the coming year.

Players work hard against Warwick on the courts.

Clubs Recognize Athletic Students

The 100 Mile Club and the Varsity Club are two organizations that recognize outstanding athletes. Selling T-shirts and socks to raise money are just two of the many activities the members of the Varsity Club take on to buy trophies and to raise money for scholarships. Through the Museum, down Warwick Boulevard, and around the track are just a few of the places 100 milers must cover to complete their miles. The requirements? Ten good pairs of track shoes and two good feet!

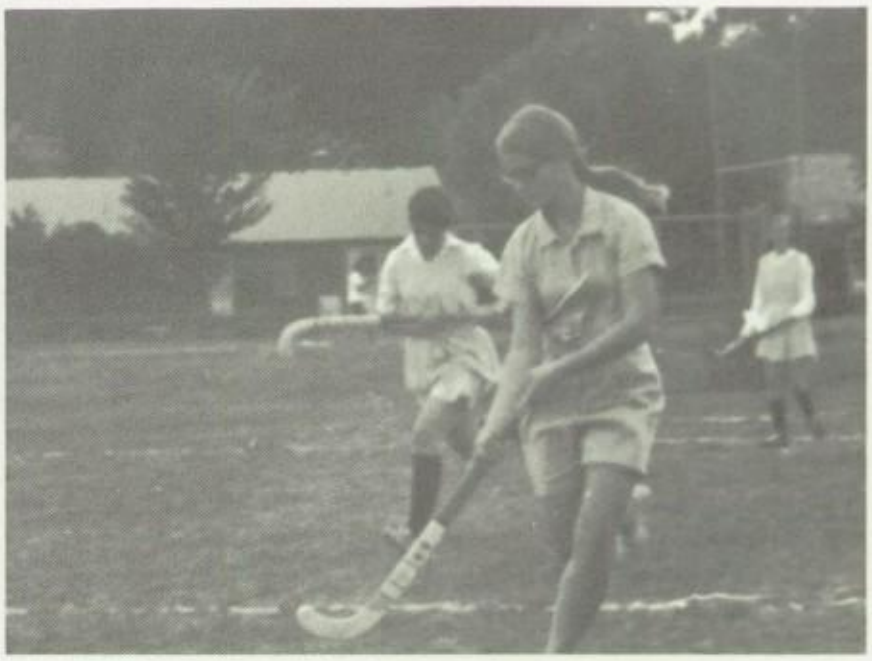
Whether at Todd Stadium, the gym, the track field, the tennis courts, or the golf course, Ferguson Mariners show their versatility through their participation in sports. The Varsity Football team's 7–3 record, its victory over rival Warwick, the Cross Country's Regional Title, John VanDyke's state championship, the J. V. Wrestler's 8–0 district record, and the Gymnastic Team's fine showing are all visible accomplishments of Mariner teams. Behind the scenes, the backbone of the teams can be found — Toby, the coaches, the Booster Club, the Drill Team, and the spectators at all the sports events. It is in this way that all Ferguson students participate in sports through their contributions to buy new uniforms, promote school spirit, host the twenty-first annual wrestling tournament, and mold the players into Mariners with sportsmanlike qualities. Keen abilities cultivated through concentrated practice produce sound physical bodies which, with the will to win, bring glory first to Ferguson High School and secondly, to the individual.



40–6 Victory Over Warwick Ends Season

Typical referee stance following a Ferguson drive.

It all starts
one day in August.
Summer practice begins.
Exercising, scrimmaging, and running sprints in 90° heat prepare the boys for the first game.
The disappointment of defeat, the triumph of success, broken bones, and injured knees are all part of the "fun."
The sweat of hard work, put into learning plays and correcting mistakes,
shows as the team improves.
"Sweet Thing" and his encouraging remarks,
Gator aid and a steak dinner:
that's football at F.H.S.
All the boys work together as a team, striving for perfection.
The season ends with a 7–3 record
and a 40–6 win over rival Warwick.
The efforts pay off.
Congratulations, team!

Victory Over WHS Highlights Season

Although the Basketball Team does not boast a winning season, its victory over Warwick ends the season on a good note. At the awards assembly top scoring Mariner cagers, Neal Knemeyer and Robert Keyes receive the basketball award. While the team did not do well on the courts, the players do have the satisfaction of knowing they did their best, and the returning players look forward to a better year in the '69–'70 season.

Young Mariner Teams Promise Good Future

The 8th and 9th Grade Team, boasting its best record, and the J.V. Team promise to provide good basketball players for the Varsity Basketball Team in a few years. The teams have beaten many of their rivals including Warwick. FHS Hosts State Wrestling Meet Besides learning holds and perfecting their skills, the mighty Ferguson Mat Machine works selling ads for the state wrestling meet that Ferguson has the privilege of hosting this year. After weeks of preparation, the new wrestling mat arrives and final arrangements are made. Even though Ferguson does not have any players in the meet, each member of the team does its best to make the meet a success. The Wrestling team misses seven players but strength is gained through the efforts of Craig Corson, the recipient of the Most Outstanding Wrestler Award and the Roy Trousdale Trophy.

Heavyweight, Wilton Bunn, works to add points to team's score.

The team has 8 straight wins in district competition and the efforts of Steve Ruggles, Mike Greene, and Larry Capps contribute much to the overall success of the team. Trackmen Strive For Excellence In All Areas

Whether participating in the 100 yard dash, the high or low hurdles, the pole vault, the shot put, the discus, the mile, or the broad jump, the Outdoor Track Team does its best to bring recognition to the school. The results of weeks of practicing during the summer on the Peninsula Track Team and running down Museum trails to get in shape are evident when one sees that the Mariner relay team set a new peninsula record, 11 seconds faster than the old one, the team finishes sixth in the district, John VanDyke wins the State Individual Championship, and John Lawson brings honors to FHS through his pole vaulting ability.

J.V. TRACK TEAM – First Row: Tommy O'Hara, Guy Tudor, Clay Webb, Bob Monroe, Tommy Millner, Tommy Eure, Bobby Gemmill; Second Row: Rudd Simmons, Tom Carpenter, Jolly Shields, Jim Doggette, John Fisher, Vince West, Steve Yates.

Donnie Holland goes up and over.

JV Track Team Strives For Improvements

The J. V. Track team begins its practice by running down the museum trails to get in shape. After many exercises and blisters, the team finally participates in meets. Although the team misses several of its thinclads that have gone to the varsity teams, the team tries to do its best in every meet.

Ranking third in the district, behind Newport News and Warwick, the Ferguson High School baseball team holds a 10–6 overall record and a 7–4 record in district competition. Under the leadership of Coach Byrd, Seniors Wilton Bunn, Mike Fox, and Stew Sedgwick hold the spotlight in a successful season. Each team member, no matter what his position on the field, contributes to the success of the team and it is through this combined effort that the team has had a winning season. Whether batting in a home run with the bases loaded, catching a fly ball, or pitching a no hit game, the seventeen players do their best to bring pride in their school and they deserve the praise of all the students at FHS.

FHS Golf Team Ranks Third In The District

Ending the season with a 5–2–2 record, the golf team ranks third in the district. Although the team has only one senior and one junior, making a very young team, Jimmy O'Donnell places sixth and John McDaniel captures eighth place in the district tournament. Jimmy O'Donnell qualifies for the Eastern Regional meet at the end of the year. Who knows, maybe he'll beat Arnold Palmer by the time he is a senior!

GRA EXECUTIVE COUNCIL – Judy McClellen, Lou Ann Davis, Clarice Locher, Jo Ann Scher, Ginger Woodward, Dale Johnson, President.

GRA Provides Sports For Interested Girls

GRA sponsors basketball as one of its many intermural sports.

The Girls Recreation Association aims at increasing skill and enthusiasm in all girls' sports through intermurals. The sound of hockey sticks clacking and girls shouting while playing basketball, or the sight of arrows flying on the archery field and girls dominating the tennis courts all mean fun in GRA.

Gymnasts Have A Successful Year

The FHS Gymnastics team is one of the most active sports teams in school. During the season, the team wins four of its five meets, captures ten medals in the State Regional Gymnastics Meet, and four team members place at the state AAU Meet. At the awards assembly, Mary Storms is named the Most Valuable Gymnast on the team. Whether tumbling, vaulting, doing a free exercise, or working on the balance beam or the uneven parallel bars, the team always brings personal satisfaction to its members and it deserves the praise of every Mariner. The Hockey team, ending with a 3–3–2 record, boosts two students, Ginger Woodward, and Clarice Locker, on the all-star team in the Hockey Tournament and also has the satisfaction of beating Lake Taylor at the Allied Tournament.

GRA Offers Tennis And Basketball

Whether the girls are perfecting the backhand swing, trying to win a set, or finding a lost ball, the girl's tennis team is a very important part of GRA. Each girl tries to improve her overall performance in matches by challenging and defeating her team mates. Although they lost the first match of the season, the team improves with time and ends with a successful season. The basketball team, also a part of the GRA, takes part in a Basketball Sports Day in competition with other schools as well as other games with schools in the city to improve their play.

All For Ferguson Stand Up, Scream

This group of eleven girls possesses a lot of spirit, strong vocal chords, and a fantastic amount of energy. The Varsity Cheerleaders spend many summer hours practicing familiar cheers and learning new ones. In the fall they start with afternoon practices about once a week in preparation for the weekend football games. They also introduce some of the most favorite cheers and chants to the eighth graders at orientation. These girls boost school spirit at numerous pep assemblies and at the bonfire for the Homecoming game. At each football game the cheerleaders line up at the goal post to give the team encouragement, at Homecoming they wear mums, and at the York game they cheer in the rain. Only five girls cheer at each basketball game, but they all work very hard and finish the games with hoarse cries. In the spring the Seniors reflect about their good times, and the younger girls hope to take the places of the graduating girls.

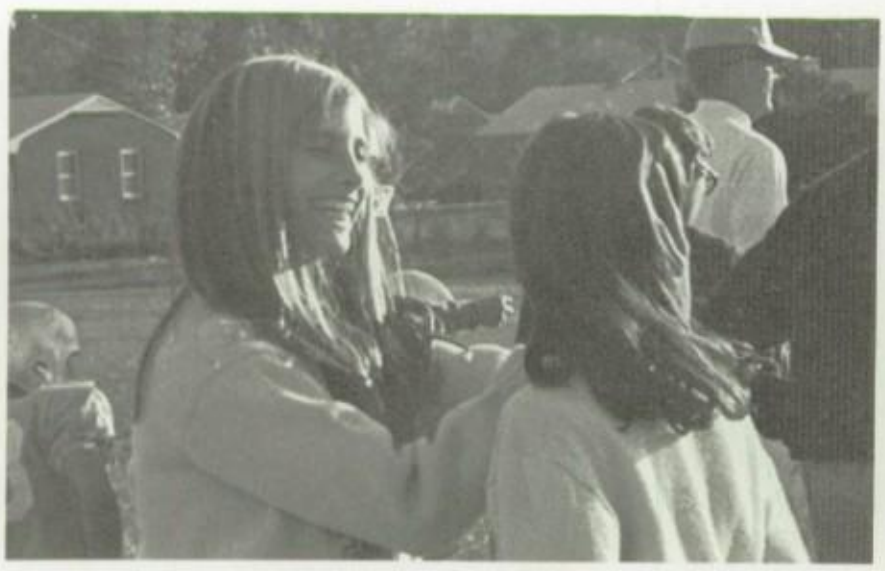
JV Cheerleaders' Pep Shines At Games

The J.V. Cheerleaders, ten freshmen and sophomore girls, with Suzanne Montgomergy as their captain, cheer at the J.V. games and pep assemblies. They work hard to gain the priviledge of cheering at the Homecoming game. These girls work at the J.V. games to boost spirit and to encourage the small – but faithful group of spectators. Their bright smiles and spirited cheers do much for the teams as the game records show!



J.V. football games rate smiles from cheerleaders.

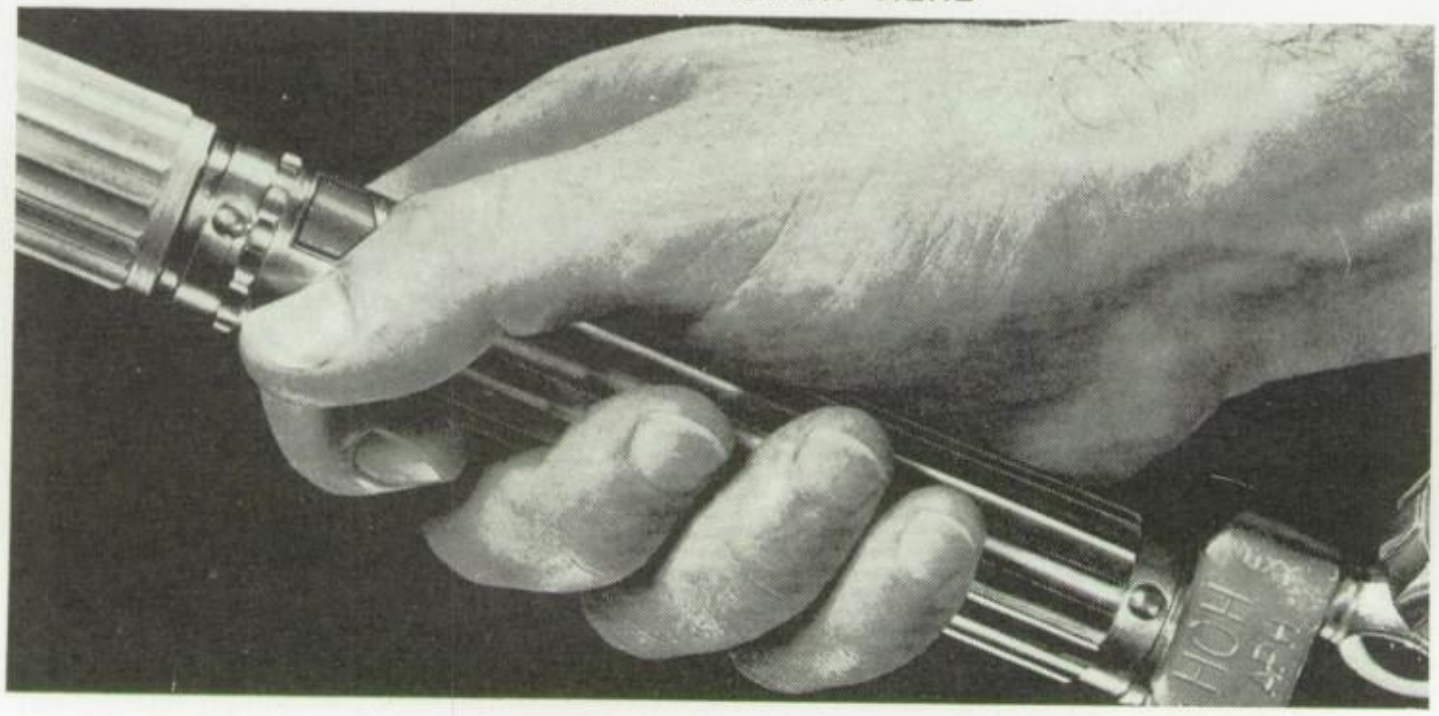
GOOD SHIPS START HERE



Fine ships don't roll off a production line. They're built efficiently and well only by men whose skills and knowledge are broad. That's why Newport News begins at the beginning with its own selective Apprentice School.

High School graduates enter on the basis of academic record. But selectivity doesn't stop there. In classroom and shop, in the drafting room and out in the yard, each man's special abilities are watched and developed.

Some become skilled and versatile machinists. Others become expert electricians or precision tool makers. Many become supervisors. Some earn scholarships for advanced training at colleges and technical schools.

We think the School's a pretty inspiring place, because its end results are good men and good ships.
